G. O. P. Leader Scores Russian Rulers

SAYS PLOT AIMED AT FREEDOM

Sen. Lodge Reveals Cause of Party Opposition to Recognition

FEARS SPREAD OF COMMUNISM IDEAS

Declares Lenin and Trotsky Leading Minority Party in Russia

(By United Press Leased Wire)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Recognition of Russia now would subject the United States to a "pestilence of communist propaganda," Senator Lodge, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, asserted today in a 15,000 word speech to the senate telling why the administration is opposing recognition.

Recognition would mean, Lodge said, that every industrial center in the country would have a Russian consul who would in reality be a communist propagandist.

"The question of immediate danger to the government by revolution or insurrection is not the point here," said Lodge.

"The question is whether you are going to permit the spread of a pestilence through the country. A very sure way of permitting it to spread is by recognizing the people who are undertaking to spread doctrines that would strike at the very foundations of free organized society and seek to destroy the principles that have made the United States what it is."

No Ban On Trade

"There is something more at stake here than trade. There is nothing now to stop trade with Russia. The reason we do not have business with Russia is because that country is producing no surplus which gives them a chance to pay for our exports to them. Trade is impossible and is found so in practice. But no trade is worth endangering what is far more important—the basic principles of American freedom or the welfare of the American people."

Most of Lodge's speech was devoted to proving that Russia is completely in control of communists, who also control the third international, which works for extension of communism in other countries. The third international or its subsidiaries, Lodge said, has a direct connection with three organizations in the United States—the I. W. W., the Workers Party of America and the Union of Labor Youth of America.

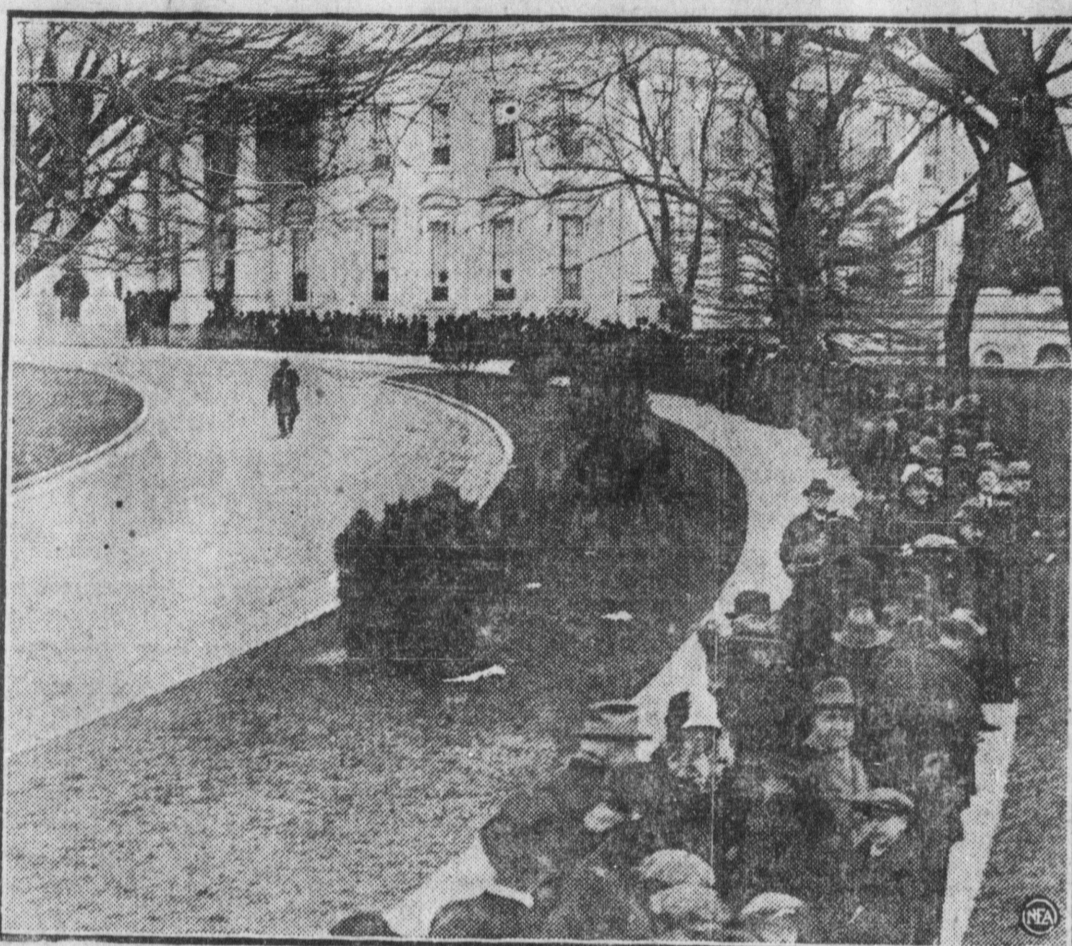

Lodge quoted from speeches and writings by Lenin, Zinoviev, Kamenev and many other officials of the Russian soviet government to prove that the soviet republic is completely dominated by the Russian communist party, which has but 400,000 members out of a total population in Russia of 120,000,000. He showed from speeches, newspaper articles and official reports how a system of "interlocking directorates" has made communist control of the Russian government and of the Third international complete and absolute.

"It is a system of interlocking directorates," said Lodge, "formed with a thoroughness and completeness which is very striking and these interlocking directorates constitute the real government of Russia. All power is theirs."

Lenin, Lodge pointed out, is

SKELETON VESSEL ADRIFT IN STORM IS FOUND AT SEA

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 7.—The battleship Louisiana has been found 70 miles off Cape Henry, a message here today said. The Louisiana was found by the coast guard cutter Manning. Seven civilians aboard the dismantled battleship are safe, the message said, and suffered little from cold.

Saturday night in heavy weather the tow lines holding the Louisiana to the tug Peerless and Wood parted and the tug captains, after anchoring the Louisiana 30 miles off shore near the Winter quarter light, off Assateague, Va., hurried to port.

When they returned to the anchorage Sunday morning the Louisiana was gone.

During the day the steamer Herbert L. Pratt radioed that she had seen the Louisiana at 9:30 a. m. Sunday at a point approximately five miles from where she was anchored by the tugs Saturday night.

The seven civilians aboard the Louisiana were left there to trim the ship's lights and steer. There is no radio aboard the Louisiana.

The Louisiana was in her day one of the proudest of the navy's ships. She carried President Roosevelt to the Panama canal in 1907. That was about a year after she was commissioned on June 2, 1904. She was a second line battleship of 18,000 tons, was 470 feet long and had a speed of 19 knots. She was built at Newport News, costing more than $6,000,000 without her armament.

The Louisiana was one of twenty-eight vessels ordered scrapped August 17, 1923. She was sold to a Baltimore firm under an agreement that she would be broken up within a specified time.

Best information today was that the Florida citrus crop has escaped damage, although the mercury reached 40 degrees last night, the coldest since 1913. Rising temperatures reported today.

A. M. Mitchell, meteorologist in charge of the Jacksonville weather bureau, said the freezing weather was confined to the north of the peninsula and in the central portion, only as far south as Gainesville, where the mercury was reported in the twenties.

In the big citrus belt region farther south, the weather moderated after the first dip.

Most damage to truck farms was reported around Mobile. From 10 to 14 degrees above zero was reported in the gulf region. Orange groves suffered some damage in Baldwin county.

EXCESS RAIL PROFIT ACT IS UPHELD

Court Decides In Favor of Government In Hotly Contested Suit

(By United Press Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The United States supreme court today held constitutional the excess earnings clause of the Transportation Act of 1920.

The clause in question was the much disputed one which provides one-half of a railroad's income over and above six per cent on its valuation shall be placed in a fund within the control of the government and the other half retained by the railroad in a trust fund.

The case decided today was a suit for injunction filed by the Dayton-Goose Creek Railway company of Texas restraining federal authorities from enforcing the excess earnings clause. Nineteen other railroads embracing one-quarter of the total trackage of the country joined with the Goose Creek road in attacking the validity of what has been commonly known as the "recapture of excess earnings."

The railroads contended that since the provision was not an exercise of admitted congressional taxing power but was merely an assumption to take over a portion of a road's earnings above an arbitrary limit, there was no authority for the act within the constitution.

The government argued, on the other hand that the act was a perfectly reasonable exercise of congressional power and well within the limit of precedent, being but another phase of legislative powers in regulating rates and tariffs to be charged by public utilities.

Little Insurance Insurance on most of the structures was very light. The Lick Dome pier, valued at $500,000, was insured for $10,000. The Rosemary theater, valued at $250,000 had no insurance.

The fire started about 9 o'clock Sunday morning. Fanned by a gentle breeze from the north, it swept along the ocean front.

Major losses, according to estimates of their value, included: Dome theater, $500,000; Picking pier, $1,000,000; Lick pier, $500,000; Frasier pier, $500,000; Giant Dipper, $100,000; Rosemary theater, $250,000; Bon Ton ballroom, $350,000.

Besides, there were scores of smaller concessions located on the three piers, all total losses. An apartment house and several stores, drug store and other businesses were wiped out.

One man, George Slater, a Negro porter, was either burned to death or drowned, according to the opinion expressed today, when the man could not be found.

Slater was last seen at the edge of the conflagration with his face and hands badly burned. It is believed he fell into the flames or stumbled through the burned pier in the ocean.

Scores of firemen were slightly burned and several fishermen were rescued from the end of one of the piers by speed boats.

Fire departments of Beverly Hills, Venice, Santa Monica, Sawtelle, Hollywood and several companies from Los Angeles responded to the alarm and helped confine the loss to the three piers, preventing the flames from spreading to the business district across the wide promenade.

Third Big Blaze Sunday's fire was the third big loss Ocean Park has suffered in 1912 and 1915 the amusement district was burned out, each time to be rebuilt "bigger and better" than before. In 1920 Venice amusement center, less than a mile away, was similarly burned.

The Santa Monica Municipal auditorium, at the north end of the Ocean Park piers, was damaged by yesterday's fire. In out of it is located the band stand, and there last night the city's band rendered its weekly concert. Flickering tongues of flame cast a lurid glow over the scene while the band played, and visitors and residents, refusing to be disheartened by their loss, applauded with accustomed vigor.

QUAKE HITS WALLA WALLA. WALLA WALLA, Wash., Jan. 7.—What is said to be the heaviest earthquake disturbance ever felt here occurred Sunday in three distinct shocks. Windows rattled but no damage was done. Similar disturbances were reported at Pendleton.

Klan Loses Fight Against Magazine

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The petition of the Ku Klux Klan for a review of its suit to restrain Hearst International Magazine from publishing document, lists of members and other confidential data of the Klan, was denied today by the supreme court. The bandits, who were armed, escaped, although the street at the entrance of the theater was crowded with people.

ILL HEALTH FORCES OUT GREEK LEADER

Returning in triumph, hailed as the strong man of his country, Venizelos was no sooner elected president of the national assembly than a troublesome heart forced him to retire.

The former premier wrote to his followers that they must elect another leader "from the ranks of distinguished statesmen of the liberal party" and that if one could be found ready to undertake formation of a cabinet, Venizelos was determined to resign.

Unreasonableness of rates to Baltimore and Washington are charged, but it is said the investigation may have a far-reaching effect on paper rates otherwise.

Other foreigners are likewise trapped.

The savage Thibetans poured over the border into China recently, the report stated, and surrounded the walled city of Batang, burning and looting all surrounding towns. Chinese garrisons of the district fled or had disappeared shortly before the appearance of the savages and assistance is declared impossible for weeks.

Civil officials of Batang fled. The Americans who are left behind, facing death from starvation or capture by the Thibetan hordes, are M. H. Duncan, his wife and son; M. M. Hardy, wife and three sons, all of the foreign Christian mission society, and J. B. Morse and wife, of the United Christian Mission.

COUNTRESS IN JAIL ASKS DEPORTATION

(By United Press Leased Wire)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 7.—Countess Ramona Von Lippen, in the county jail under sentence to San Quentin prison for passing fictitious checks for less than $500, is to make a fight today through her attorney to be deported so that her social standing at home will not be jeopardized.

Her father is said to be Count Oscar Von Gradenigo, an Italian nobleman, and her mother a woman of noble Austrian birth.

"If I can only be deported I will be a countess again, but if I must go to prison, then I will lose all my social standing, my position in life and the respect which Europeans have for a good woman."

ARREST THREE FOR HUGE LINEN THEFT

(Copyright, 1924, by United Press)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 7.—Three men were under arrest today charged with theft of $5,000 worth of linen from the Southern Service company, of Pomona.

Raymond Kingars, bookkeeper for the victimized firm, was nabbed at Pomona. J. Rosenberg, a San Bernardino junk dealer, and Ike Finklestein, a local store owner, were taken into custody by local authorities.

Linen worth $2,000, forming part of the loot, has already been recovered, detectives said.

Rosenberg is said to have confessed, implicating Kingars.

COURT HOLDS LOCAL BOOZE LAWS STAND

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The supreme court today upheld the 18th amendment and the Volstead act did not render state or local liquor license laws inoperative and that persons could be convicted for violation of license laws.

The court upheld the conviction of Anthony Molinari for failing to procure a license to sell liquor in Allegheny county, Maryland. Molinari's defense was that the national prohibition act made local laws designed to regulate and license the liquor trade ineffective and therefore he could not be punished for their violation.

SEEK AUTO MAN BAILED OUT IN FORGERY CASE

Sheriff Sam Jernigan and his deputies today were endeavoring to locate C. C. Tash, used car dealer here, arrested Saturday on a charge of forgery and released on $500 bond, following notice today by J. H. Stout and John Knox, his bondsmen, that they wished to surrender Tash.

At the same time it was revealed that the Killen-Miles Motor company was interested in the case of the former used car dealer.

According to a statement made today by George Miles, a member of the company, Tash Saturday forenoon took a car from their garage and neither Tash nor the car has been seen since.

Miles said that Tash told a representative of the company that he had a prospective buyer for the used car and was given permission to take the machine to demonstrate to the alleged prospective buyer.

Attorney Interests Self.

Stating that the car had been insured through the agency of Swales and McFadden, Miles declared the agency had been notified. The agency in turn advised the company in Los Angeles, and Miles said he expected the company would swear to a complaint charging Tash with embezzlement or make effort to definitely locate the missing machine.

A new angle in the asserted disappearance of Tash developed just before noon when Knox and Stout received a telephone message from Claude H. McBride, Long Beach attorney, that he was coming here to see them in the interest of Tash. While not so advised, Stout was of the opinion that the attorney had knowledge as to the whereabouts of Tash.

Claim Duplicates Forged.

Used car salesmen here for Knox and Stout, when they were Ford agents; for the Reid Motor company, and general salesmen for the Appleby Motor company. Tash had established himself in the confidence of Santa Ana motor car dealers. He was regarded as a capable salesman and salesman.

Arraigned Saturday in Justice J. B. Cox's court on a charge of forgery, Tash's preliminary hearing was set for 2 p. m., February 20. He is charged with having forged duplicate contracts on cars sold on consignment and to have sold the alleged forged contracts at a discount.

The complainant was V. E. Maynard, who alleged that his wife bought a number of contracts from Tash, one of which, he told District Attorney A. P. Nelson, was a forgery.

'John D.' Still Is Giving New Dimes To Golf Habitués

ORMOND BEACH, Fla., Jan. 7.—John D. Rockefeller is playing his daily round of golf on the Ormond Beach links for the eighth successive winter and although the season was scarcely started, early visitors are forming daily galleries and follow him over the course.

They are curious to know why he only plays eight holes of golf; how he plays golf; how far he drives; and if he really gives dimes away when he makes a good shot.

The ninth hole on most courses brings a player back in the vicinity of the clubhouse or starting point, but the Ormond Beach course, being one of the oldest in the state, is laid out in the old style, and the ninth hole is considerable distance from number one.

A motor road crosses the course in back of the eighth green, and it is here that Rockefeller's automobile is parked.

By eliminating the 500-yard ninth hole, and walking the short distance to his car from the eighth green, Rockefeller saves that much time for motoring before luncheon.

His enthusiasm over golf is sincere and it has happened that he has given persons standing near one of his shiny new dimes when he made a particularly fine shot. He carries a supply of these coins in his right-hand pocket, ready to give them to any one he meets. A person too anxious for a dime is often ignored entirely, but he frequently walks some little distance to hand a dime to a person who has called out praise for a well-played shot.

Rockefeller will be 85 years old next July. Twenty years ago Rockefeller began playing with General F. Ames of Lowell, Mass., in Augusta, Ga., and they have played together almost daily ever since. General Ames is in his eighty-ninth year.

Weston, was arraigned Saturday on a similar charge and his hearing set for 2 p. m., February 21.

OIL SUIT LINES UP ARRAY OF LAWYERS

With an array of Los Angeles and Santa Ana legal talent representing various interested parties, trial was begun today of the suit of L. W. Neswinder for determination of his interests in a community lease given by property owners at Yorba Linda to the General Petroleum Oil company.

The case was understood to revolve around the points as to whether notice of the company to start drilling of wells to offset those drilled by the same company on a lease given it by the Yorba Linda water company constitutes notice of abandonment by the company of the community lease.

Provision was made in the community lease for drilling by General Petroleum of offset wells, it was said.

According to a statement made by Kenneth Morrison, clerk of Judge R. Y. Williams' court, in which the case is being tried, the oil company accepted the notice to start offset wells as equivalent to a notice of abandonment, and the company entered into a new lease with A. Y. Yerrington and W. J. Keller, whose properties were in the original lease. Four wells later were developed on these properties and Neswinder has brought suit, asking for a court order declaring void the original lease, in which event Neswinder and others in the original lease would participate in royalties from the four wells.

Neswinder, on the witness stand this morning, recited various circumstances and conversations incident to the serving of notice on the oil company to start drilling operations.

It was expected the case would be in progress three or four days.

Liquor Is Lost as Cars Collide

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 7.—Fizzes concocted from a various assortment of bootleg liquor, were mixed on the streets of San Francisco, and Federal Prohibition Director Samuel F. Butler and his assistant, H. H. Dolley, did not have a word to say about the matter. The agents were driving down Sutter street with a quantity of bootleg that had been seized during a raid, when a car driven by Rev. Robert L. Jackson, pastor of the Fitzgerald Methodist church, collided with their car at Sutter and Taylor streets. Both of the cars were damaged, and the confiscated liquor spilled. None of the occupants of the machines was injured.

LODGE SCORES SOVIET RULE IN SPEECH

head of all the directorates in this interlocking system and others in the small group of communists who, Lodge said, are directors in Russia, include Trotsky, Kamenev, Rykov, Tomsy and Stalin.

Author In Plot

Zinoviev, author of an article published in the Moscow newspaper, Pravda, recently and which Secretary Hughes said was written for publication in the first issue of a communist daily newspaper soon to appear in New York, also is a member of several of the most important "directorates," Lodge said.

"I think I have shown," Lodge continued, "that the Russian Soviet republic which we are asked to recognize is simply one branch of the government of Russia and not the controlling branch. It furnishes, however, a convenient opportunity to say that things which are done and controlled by the dominant branches of the government are not done by the government of Russia."

"Everything that has been done by any one of three branches of that government—the federation of Soviet republics, the Soviet republic and the Communist party (and the greatest of these is the Communist party)—has been done by the government of Russia. There is no escaping that fact. It is a very formidable and highly organized system of government—arbitrary, unscrupulous and efficient."

The American branch of the Communist Internationale is the Workers' party, Lodge said. It was to this party that Zinoviev addressed the instructions to work for the social revolution with the idea of raising the red flag over the White House which Secretary Hughes recently made public. Lodge quoted a long letter from C. E. Ruthenberg, executive secretary of the party, to prove that the American Communists are working hand in hand with the Russian Com-

FOUR INFANTRY UNITS PLANNED FOR COUNTY

Formation of infantry companies at Fullerton, Santa Ana and Orange is included in the re-organization plans for the California national guard in 1924, dispatches received here today from Sacramento indicated. In his announcement Adjutant General R. E. Mittelstaedt made known plans for an increase of approximately 1600 officers and enlisted men and the formation of a number of new artillery, as well as infantry companies.

General Mittelstaedt said he expects to add 1000 officers and men to the infantry branch of the guard and 600 to the artillery. The program calls for the completion of four battalions of infantry, two in the northern and two in the southern part of the state, the organization of the 143rd field artillery and the completion of the coast artillery force by the organization of five new companies in San Francisco.

Besides the four companies planned for Orange county, the adjutant general said infantry forces would be recruited in Chico, Oroville, San Jose, Palo Alto and Hayward, in the north; and Calexico, El Centro, Holtville and Brawley, in the south.

The field artillery will be composed of units in San Jose, Stockton and Oakland. Captain Seth Millington of Colusa, former state commander of the American Legion, is to have charge of the re-organization work.

The present strength of the national guard is approximately 3500 officers and men. Gen. Mittelstaedt said he hoped to increase this number to 9000 in accordance with the program of the war department.

He also quoted greetings from the third Internationale to the American I. W. W. and from the Russian Communist youth to the union labor youth in America to prove the connection between those organizations.

Lodge commended the United Mine Workers of America and Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, for fighting communism in their ranks.

He quoted from a speech by Ludwig Erwin Katterfield, alias J. Carr, an American Communist delegate to the Communist Internationale, in which Carr said American Communists had received definite instructions from the Communist Internationale. He quoted a speech by Trotsky to the effect that the United States was the most promising field for industrial revolution.

KU KLUX KLAN LECTURE BY DR. BRONSON

Frankly declaring that the Ku Klux Klan is a religious political organization bent upon gaining control of the United States government, with the purpose of making it over into a Protestant flag, Dr. J. Rush Bronson, Klan lecturer, from Atlanta headquarters of the organization, at Elite Hall, spoke yesterday afternoon before an audience of about 500 men and women.

"Keep America American" and "a white, Anglo-Saxon, Protestant America" were slogans repeated to his hearers by Dr. Bronson as denoting the chief aim of the Ku Klux Klan. The speaker indicated that the Klan expected to accomplish these aims by injecting religion into the government and procuring a militant Protestant ascendancy under which the Catholics, the Jew, or those of other faith would be tolerated and would lose none of their citizenship rights.

Further objects or policies of the Klan in connection with its slogans, as set forth by Dr. Bronson, included limitation or possible temporary halting of immigration in order to keep out undesirable aliens, preventing the causes of mob violence and lynchings, protection of womanhood, war against anarchy or the "reds," and strict enforcement of all laws.

Separation of state and church was placed before the audience as another Klan tenet. Dr. Bronson spoke emphatically of the Klan's ambition to rule the government, and declared that, "We'll put the Protestant Bible back into the public schools."

Attacks Press

Dr. Bronson's remarks were flavored with several attacks upon a "local newspaper" and the press in general, as well as the local Masonic lodge for what he declared was opposition to his appearance in Santa Ana. He also took occasion to mention with "amusement" a "local church" where he had been "begged with fear in their souls" not to mention the Ku Klux Klan. He accused the "local news paper" of "casting a slur" upon him and attempting to discredit him in advance.

The Masons were criticized for withholding use of their store room for his lecture. "The press," Dr. Bronson said, "is our best friend because it fights us." The Klan organizers always do best, he said, in communities where the Klan is opposed.

In working for its political control the Ku Klux Klan has denounced both the Republican and Democratic parties, the speaker said, and is looking for "men who will enforce the laws." He claimed that the Klan elected an entire ticket, from governor down, in Indiana, and stated that it has gained control of many cities, a few states and is reaching for the presidency.

Lack of law enforcement and development of what are regarded as dangerous organizations within the country led to the organization of the Ku Klux Klan, Dr. Bronson indicated. He sounded a warning against the Reds and defended the action of Secretary Hughes in recently issuing a warning of a bolshevik plot against the American government. Dr. Bronson disagreed with senators who doubted the menace.

Defends Klan Garb

The Klan hood and gown and Klan "secrecy" were defended by Dr. Bronson. The organization, he said, is not as secret as any of the fraternal orders; its oaths are copyrighted and on file at

$304,600 in Yuba County Treasury

MARYSVILLE, Jan. 7.—Yuba county started the new year with a balance of $304,609.61 in its treasury, according to Treasurer Harvey D. Eich. Receipts during the month of December totaled $251,750.47, while warrants paid amounted to $87,323.70.

ACCUSED SLAYER IS TRACED TO IRVINE

According to Sheriff Sam Terhagan, the nightwatchman at Irvine station, by photographs submitted to him, today definitely identified a man he saw at Irvine crossing at 1:30 a. m. Saturday as Harry J. Dunlap, alleged slayer at Pasadena Thursday night of William Jacobson.

The watchman said that Dunlap was by himself and was driving a gray car. The asserted murderer halted at the Irvine crossing to permit a freight train to pass. He declared he had splendid opportunity to observe the suspect.

Following notification to the sheriff's office in Los Angeles, officers of that county took energetic steps to apprehend the accused criminal in the south, it being expected that he was headed for the border.

When killed, Jacobson was in company with a woman friend. The bandit stopped there, and when Jacobson attempted to defend his companion he was shot.

Washington, during last year, it conducted 500 open "naturalizations" out of doors. The most secret organization with which he was ever affiliated was a Republican political committee, the speaker said.

The secrecy with which the organization operates was defended with the claim that it made possible the securing of much evidence against lawbreakers that would otherwise be impossible to get.

In explaining the motives of its organization and its present aims of a "white, Anglo-Saxon, Protestant America," Dr. Bronson reviewed history, going back to the landing of the Mayflower in 1620 with the Pilgrims in search of "religious liberty."

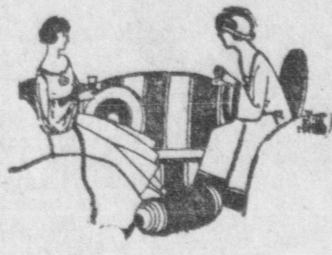

He credited Protestants with responsibility for the Mayflower pact, the Articles of Confederation, the Mecklenburg declaration, the Declaration of Independence and the birth of the flag.

The Ku Klux Klan, he said, was formed because the need was felt for a militant Protestant organization after its organizers had been disappointed with the other fraternal orders as failing to satisfy their demands.

Introduced by Pastor Slips of paper bearing purported Catholic statements or writings antagonistic to the government were passed out at the door of the hall, as the audience arrived. As it departed, Klan literature and what appeared to be blank forms for tentative application for membership were distributed.

Dr. Bronson was introduced to the audience by Rev. Leon Myers, pastor of the Christian church at Anaheim. At various intervals his remarks were accorded scattering applause while on one or two occasions, notably when he declared for strict law enforcement, the applause was general.

According to the speaker's own statement, a number of Klansmen were scattered through the audience. Four members wearing the hood and gown of the order were on the platform and a fiery cross flanked the speaker on one side, with the Stars and Stripes on the other.

What they said:

"Yes, Jack gave me a 'Dawn Washer' for Christmas. After we bought our place, we found the laundry porch was too small to get our washing machine in, but the 'Dawn Washer' fits right on the LAUNDRY TRAY, wrings as it washes, works on the vacuum cup principle, and does not splash water. I am delighted with it. Jack got it at S. Hill and Son's Hardware, 213 East Fourth."

CLOTHES LINES

Rhinestones are the most popular trimming for the black gown, whether it be of tulle or velvet. As the designs are large and bold, the novice should have no difficulty in utilizing the stones.

Jewelry becomes more and more colorful. The fad for novelty bracelets, pendants, earrings and rings seems to be on the increase. Semi-precious stones in bright and contrasting shades are popular for daytime wear. Mother of Pearl, coral, onyx, turquoise, matrix and lapis are used to create pendants, bracelets and waist ornaments. The modest black wrist band upon which Milady's watch used to repose, is now a vivid red or white with hand painted flowers.

SANTA ANA SHOPPERS

—are soon to have a treat in store for them, for Santa Ana is to have a new "Smart Shop Beautiful of which Santa Ana can be justly proud. Believing in a greater Santa Ana, the management of the present Smart Shop, at 204 West Fourth, purchased the lease of Joe Tilton's Haberdashery, and has begun alterations that will run near $15,000. With coved ceilings, and unusual lighting effects, 6 dressing rooms with plenty of mirrors, rest rooms, and mezzanine floor, with a lobby 30 feet wide and 30 feet deep, with 2 large display cases, extending on both sides and a feature display case in the center—well, all who know of the new plans are athrill with expectations.

While alterations are now going on, the Smart Shop is still serving the public as usual, with SPECIAL PRICES ON ALL MERCHANDISE.

A TIME BUDGET

Do you use your time as wisely as you use your money? To budget one's time is almost as essential to budget one's money. An hour a day, devoted to our physical and mental development, would surprise us in results—not an hour taken one day and omitted the next two, but that hour taken every day until it becomes a daily habit. The housewife who complains that she has no time for the finer things of life, would do well to budget her working hours—to work out a system whereby certain tasks done on a certain day of each week would eliminate the crowding of all these tasks at the end of the week or into one day—a certain schedule for Monday, and for every other day of the week, which one could carry out EVERY week, precisely as hubby routines his work at the office. While such a system might be irksome at first, because of its routine, after a while it would become a habit and thereby lessen work a very great deal.

THROUGH A MAN'S EYES (By "Her" Husband)

Some things we love: (A small list of a few of the things that brighten our world considerably.)

We love to take her downtown to dinner all dolled up, and see all eyes in the restaurant follow her in admiration.

We love to find her waiting in the door for us in the evening when we come home from the office dog-tired, and see her smile.

We love to play a half hour with the baby before he tumbles into bed, and hear him gurgle with delight over the funny animal cracker or big red ball that he finds in our pocket, but there as a "surprise."

We love to be jealous of any sleek-haired, brainless idiot who dares to dance more than once with our pretty little wife, and we love to appear utterly indifferent to her charms when she comes back for OUR next dance.

We love to listen when she assures us that our car runs so much better than the Smith's next door, and it must be all due to our good driving.

We love to have her make a great fuss over us when our business partner and his wife are over for dinner, and we love to show that we are the head of the household always (even if, in our heart of hearts, often we doubt it.)

Receptions*Unusually Brilliant
Is Dancing Party
At the Inn

No more delightful affair has been presented at St. Ann's Inn this season than the dinner and dancing party of last Saturday night, sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Stevens of Tustin.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevens greeted their guests in the spacious lobby and later led the way to the dining room where three long tables were arranged for the party and where the beauty of the scene was heightened by the lovely gowns worn by the women guests.

The tables had been arranged under the personal supervision of the hostess and were artistic studies in rose and blue. Heavy headed pink roses combined with dainty blue flowers offered floral adornment while waxen tapers in silver candlesticks illumined the scene.

At the conclusion of the elaborate dinner, the tables were removed and the entire floor space given over to dancing. Grigsby's Californians gave the musical program, the orchestra of nine pieces offering a constant invitation to flying feet. Cymbal dances were introduced and one unusually pretty figure was distinguished by the countless vividly colored balloons which the dancers carried.

Lead punch served throughout the evening, offered refreshment to the dancers who numbered about eighty.

Complaint Brings 'Dummy' Flagman
at Rail Crossing

Due to the action of the railroad commission, the Atchison Topeka and Santa Fe railway company has installed an automatic flagman for the protection of the city of Orange, it was learned here today.

This is in line with the policy of the railroad commission to render the grade crossings in California as safe as possible, pending complete elimination of all hazardous grade crossings, it was said by C. L. Seavey, president.

The matter was called to the attention of the railroad commission in the shape of an informal complaint by the California Farm Bureau federation. An investigation was conducted by the transportation division, which recommended that additional protection should be provided for this crossing, and suggested that an automatic flagman should be installed.

Home Dressmakers Will Welcome Suggestions
On the Proper Way to Interline Winter Wraps

Once upon a time, the home dressmaker, no matter how capable she might be in fashioning pretty dresses, balked at winter wraps, for their tailored lines and stiff interlinings, made them almost impossible of manufacture by unskilled hands.

But changing styles have obviated the great difficulties of such sewing, and the beautiful materials which the drygoods stores offer in such bewildering variety, are a constant inducement to the home sewer to achieve a wrap along the most favored Parisian styles.

For all stiffening in a coat is a thing of the past. The necessary interlining is given by some soft material like unbleached muslin which gives just enough body to the front, yoke and arm-eye of the garment to keep the shape.

The sketches show how far to place this interlining. Cut it out by the front and back pieces of the pattern and baste it into each part of the garment before the seams are sewed. This muslin must be thoroughly shrunk before cutting it out.

If you use this interlining as illustrated your coat will have a genuine tailored look down the front and around the armholes.

Relief Corps

FEDERATION NO. 1
On Monday, January 14, the Women's Relief Corps Federation No. 1 will hold an all-day session at the I. O. O. F. hall in Fullerton, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m.

Mrs. F. T. Porter will be the chief speaker of the morning and will address the members on "Americanization," a subject of deep interest to all corps and post members and one of the principal departments of both organizations.

A noon dinner will be enjoyed and one special feature will be the January birthday table where all federation members and all G. A. R. men whose birthdays fall in January, will be seated.

The afternoon will be devoted to a program which the hostess corps at Fullerton is preparing.

SEDGWICK W. R. C.
All members of Sedgwick Post G. A. R. and W. R. C. are participating the joint installation of officers to be held at G. A. R. hall, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Plans for the Corps' participation in the event were completed at the recent meeting in G. A. R. hall where the degree staff met for morning practice and then enjoyed a pot-luck luncheon at the noon hour. In the afternoon at the business meeting, fifty-four sick calls were reported and sixteen bouquets as well. Many reports were given and the general work of the year was completed.

Why is it colder high in the air?

Because the earth has absorbed a supply of heat from the sun. The farther one goes away from this heat, the colder the air becomes. How balmy the feeling of when icy winds bite into the skin and leave it chapped and sore!

Puretest Glycerin and Rose Water is not only wonderfully soothing on chapped hands and face, but a delightful lotion after shaving. Delicately fragrant with rose bouquet.

NEW SECTION
In planning for a new Current Events section for the Ebell society, Mrs. J. W. McCormac, Ebell curator, has called a meeting of prospective members and their leader, Miss Jennie Lasby, for Thursday afternoon, January 10, at 2:30 o'clock, at the McCormac home, 112 Church street.

The fact that Miss Lasby has consented to act as leader has aroused keen interest in the new section, which, while still in process of formation, has a membership list of sixteen names. The list still remains open and all Ebell members who are interested are extended a cordial welcome to meet with the curator and members Thursday afternoon and aid in the final organization.

Miss Lasby's ability as a leader is well known to all and her success in the Delphian circle has been marked, so that equally great things are expected of the new Ebell section.

PARLIAMENTARY SECTION
Ebell Parliamentarians will meet in regular session Thursday morning, January 10 at 9:30 o'clock, with Mrs. J. W. McCormac, 112 Church street.

The Importance of Good Hardware in the Home

To the man or woman who seeks comfort, security and lasting satisfaction the selection of hardware for the home, is a matter of great importance. There is probably no other equipment in the home with which one comes in such intimate contact as the hardware. It is handled many times every day. If it is of good hardware it does not receive more than a passing thought, but if it is of an inferior grade it is very apt to cause endless annoyance and require frequent replacement.

STOCKHOLDERS OF BANK WILL MEET HERE

The First National bank of this city will hold its annual meeting of stockholders at the bank tomorrow at 10 a. m. it was announced today.

According to W. B. Williams, cashier, only the annual reports and election of directors are scheduled.

Indications today were that this is the only national bank here which will hold a meeting of local stockholders.

While the Bank of Italy has not as yet formally taken over the American National bank here as a branch, it was stated today that there is possibility of the merger being completed within this month. It was said that because of this possibility there will be no meeting of American National stockholders until the time they may be called together for final consolidation ratification.

Stockholders of the California National bank, which is now a branch of the Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings bank, Los Angeles, will not be called into a local meeting, it was said at the bank today. The First National of Los Angeles, one of the group, held its annual session last Friday, and the Pacific Southwest will meet January 15, in Los Angeles.

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Orange County Trust and Savings bank, a state bank, will be held April 14.

The Farmers and Merchants Savings bank is the savings branch of the First National bank here.

EXTENDED CITY COUNCIL MEET DUE TONIGHT

A protracted session of the city council tonight was indicated by a mass of city matter that accumulated by postponement of the past two meetings.

According to J. W. Tubbs, president of the council, tonight's session will run late into the night, if the board attempts to clear up its file.

The board ordinarily meets every Monday night, although stated meetings are scheduled for only the first and third Monday of each month.

Christmas eve and New Year's eve fell on Monday night, and the board met on those evenings and adjourned without transacting important business.

Tubbs said today that he knew of no big city project coming up tonight, but he foresaw the possibility of some resident having something to offer.

It is expected that residents of Baker street will present a petition tonight asking the council to adopt measures for widening the street to sixty feet, from Hickory street north to Santa Clara avenue.

CLAIM NEGLECT AS DEAF MUTE SON MISSING

Irrked by what he is said to have declared as negligence on the part of William Caldwell, superintendent of the state school at Berkeley for deaf and dumb children, John Mookadoo of Garden Grove today had appealed to Governor Friend W. Richardson to make an investigation whether the superintendent was neglectful in efforts to locate a son of Mookadoo, who is said to have left that institution last Friday morning.

According to Freeman H. Bloodgood of this city, Mookadoo received a letter from the superintendent advising that his son, George Mookadoo, was missing from the institution.

It was declared that the letter was postmarked in Berkeley at a forenoon hour on Friday, the day the boy left the institution, indicating, Bloodgood held, that very little effort had been made to locate the lad.

Mookadoo has received no further word from Caldwell and that he does not know whether the boy is still missing, it was learned.

Bloodgood also has written a letter to the governor urging his investigation into the circumstances connected with the disappearance of the Garden Grove lad. The Santa Ana man said the father, a laborer, cannot afford to go to Berkeley for a personal investigation.

Largely through wage reductions the British railway companies cut expenses last year to the extent of over $250,000,000.

Chlorine is now being made use of by some British millers to bleach flour for making bread, which is getting whiter every year.

The wage scale of St. Louis taxicab drivers for 1924 calls for $23.50 a week, an increase of $1 over the old rate.

Street railway motormen and conductors of Sheffield, Ala., have received a voluntary wage increase of five cents an hour.

Winter Find You Tired and Achy?

Do You Suffer Constant Backache—Feel Old and Worn Out? Then Follow the Advice of These Santa Ana Folks!

Do you get up these winter mornings feeling tired, weak—achy all over? Are you so lame, stiff and miserable it seems you can never get back in trim? Does your back ache with a dull, constant throb? Sharp, rheumatic pains torture you at every step?

Then you should be giving some attention to your kidneys!

Winter, you know, is danger time for the kidneys. That's because exposure to colds and chills wears down body resistance and throws an unusually heavy strain on the hard-working kidneys. The kidneys are apt to fall behind in keeping the blood-stream pure, and poisons accumulate that well kidneys would have filtered off.

Racking backaches come with stabbing pains; muscles and joints ache constantly; there are headaches, too, with dizziness and distressing kidney irregularities. Nerves are "jumpy"; one feels old—all worn out.

Give your weakened kidneys the help they need. Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Doan's have helped thousands. They are recommended by many Santa Ana people. Ask your neighbor!

"Use Doan's," Say These Santa Ana People:

C. B. Hawkins, 812 W. Sixth St., says: "I had a constant lame back which really troubled me most at night when I was in bed. I was unable to get any sleep and felt stiff and lame in the morning. My kidneys acted too often, causing me to get up at night. I had headaches and dizzy spells. Five boxes of Doan's Pills from Rowley's Drug Store cured the backaches and made my kidneys strong. The headaches and dizzy spells also left me."

Mrs. Wm. Richards, 906 W. First St., says: "I have used Doan's Pills with benefit. I suffered with severe backaches and pains over my kidneys. I felt run down and languid, too. Headaches made me miserable and my kidneys acted irregularly. Doan's Pills helped me wonderfully and soon relieved me of all signs of kidney complaint."

Four carloads of material—Numerous workmen, scuttling about in a maze of wires—Ton after ton, mile after mile of thread-like copper—
And seeing eyes, hearing ears, and understanding minds—
All working steadily and tirelessly toward a preconceived end.
The goal? A better and greater telephone service for Santa Ana and vicinity, one of the finest exchange buildings in all the Southland, and a mighty big job to be done in a relatively brief space of time.

Finest of Kind
Such, in a flash, is the bee-hive of activity where Western Electric wizards today were busily engaged in the magic of giving attuned ears to metallic switchboards, and weird intelligence to white and fireproof walls fitted with leader tubes which, in the months and years to come, will receive and transmit the manifold messages of the multitude.

Place the minute, sensitized wires end to end, stretch them along the Ridge route and they will reach from Santa Ana to San Francisco and then lap out into the bay.

"Santa Ana," says Earl S. Morrow, obliging manager who sees in this building the fruition of his dreams, "is going to have the finest telephone building of the kind in the country, size and population considered."

Finish Date Conjectured
"Today, you see here scores and scores of boxes each containing its full complement of parts. Though the layman might miss it, there is a message in each crate. Today, tomorrow and for weeks and months trained workmen, sent here by the Western Electric, will take out their parts, bit by bit, fit them into their little nooks and crannies, and work rapidly and efficiently toward the completion of our new home."

"How long will it take to equip those long rows of switchboards—to stretch and connect those million and one bits of copper wire—to lay within those walls and conduits those thousands of pounds of lead cables—to complete the battery system, test out the various units, and make this plant ready for use—How long? I cannot say—all we may do is hazard a guess.
Perhaps by June 1 we will be using the great operating room.
Maybe sooner—possibly later."

Fireproof Throughout, so constructed that new units may be added at will, equipped with a lounge-room for girl employees, to say nothing of a nifty little kitchenette, this structure, one finds after a minute inspection, is a lasting monument to the perseverance and ingenuity of the Bell engineers.
Even the elements have been guarded against. Not only will it be impossible for the building to burn, but no flood waters, rushing in below, can wreak any damage upon the priceless equipment.

"If the floods rush in," said Morrow, "that pump you see there begins to operate of its own accord.
The pumps start whether anyone is here or not. And, in case of fire, about all there is to burn is the furniture, since virtually everything else, including the doors, is fireproof. If you will observe the exits, leading to the fire escape, you will see there are no doorknobs. A pressure, a very slight pressure on a bar, opens the doors to the fire escape."

"And in the ceiling, you will observe iron bolts. Merely a matter of foresight—in case we should ever wish to change over to the automatic system. The ceiling studs have all been arranged.

Brown sisters, dainty musical team, who will appear in "The Powder Puff Revue," to be staged at Temple theater here January 15 and 16, under auspices of Orange county vulture No. 527, la Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux.

"The Powder Puff Revue," to be staged at the Temple theater here the nights of January 15 and 16, is in reality a tabloid edition of a big Broadway musical show, executives of Orange county vulture No.
527, la Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux, under whose auspices the revue will be given, declared today.

In point of music, comedy and beauty, it was asserted, the revue will be on par with the famous Follies or the Scandals. The only point of difference was said to be in size.

Dainty Musical Team
"Mel Melvin, artist in burnt cork fun-making, has a thoroughly original method of tickling the funny-bones of audiences," declared Z. B. West Jr., chef de gare of the Orange county vulture.

"The Brown sisters, dainty musical team now filling engagements in the Southland between 'time' on the Orpheum and other big vaudeville circuits, may walk away with the show." Their act is one that captures audiences from the very outset.

"Helen Leveile, Jackie Shannon,
Estelle Prager, the Hazel De Vere-Irene Howard sister team of singers and dancers, Irene Jones, Sadie Halperin and her jazz orchestra, and others combine to give the revue that sparkling touch of daintiness and beauty that strikes a popular chord."

Seat Sale Brisk
"In fact, 'The Powder Puff Revue' is replete with every element that has made the great Broadway musical shows the outstanding successes they are in the amusement world."

The sale of seats at the Santa Ana Book store, 405 East Fourth street, is proceeding briskly. Executive of the veteran's auxiliary counseled theater-goers to lose no time in procuring their reserved seat tickets.

"To delay the getting of seats," West said, "may mean disappointment for many who may want to see the revue."

DIRECTORS FOR FARM CENTERS
BEING NAMED*Bureau Board Soon Will Choose President and Discuss 1924 Fair

Farm centers of Orange county today were actively engaged in selection of their respective directors who will have prominent parts in the work of the farm bureau during 1924, according to Secretary-Manager A. M. Stanley.

"These directors," said Stanley,
"will meet in the farm bureau offices in Santa Ana February 7, at 1:30 p. m. At this time the old board of directors, which handled the 1923 fair and other projects, will resign. The new directors, after organizing, will select a president for the farm bureau. Among other things a new board to handle the 1924 Orange county fair will be selected."

Several Names Suggested
Although Stanley was not free to discuss probable candidates, it was said that several names have been suggested as possibilities for elevation of the office of president. The list includes S. W.
Stanley of Tustin, W. L. York of La Habra and James A. Smiley, the retiring president.

While it is understood Smiley, who made an excellent record as chairman of the 1923 fair board, might be willing to assist in the fair management again this year, he is said to have little or no desire to head the farm bureau for 1924. Stanley, on the other hand, is reported to have many supporters, while York and other possible candidates have many friends pulling for them.

Tells Fair Views
"As far as the fair is concerned," said Manager Stanley, "little can be done until the old board has passed out of existence and the new body takes command.
When the new board has organized and a president has been selected the question of the fair will be discussed."

Personally, Stanley said, it was his belief that the 1924 fair should be made to eclipse anything of the kind ever attempted in Orange county.

"I think it is generally conceded," he said, "that we should make our fair bigger and better as the years pass. This year we ought to encourage every legitimate effort to bring into the big tents all the industries of the county. Then, too, there should be a bigger and better rodeo, a department for pet stock, additional, and perhaps, separate space for the oil industry, and a mammoth department to house all the man-fold crops and by-products of the county."

Offer New Locations
The location for the 1924 fair, Stanley believed, might be the same site as was used last year, provided the Union Pacific right of way, at the foot of East Fifth street, is available. Other locations, however, have been suggested and will be discussed by the new fair board.

A. M. Stanley, it is understood, will be general manager of the fair, with the possibility that James A. Smiley and other gathing workers will help make the 1924 fair a success may again be in the harness.

Indicating that the Santa Ana soon be in a position to announce definite plans in connection with the erection of a modern hospital

call for the first meeting of the recently enlarged board of directors

"Tonight," said Dr. Ball, "the full board, including four laymen members, will meet in the Spur-steps to be taken in the hospital matter."

"Although nothing definite can

SPECTACULAR AUTO CRASH DOES DAMAGE

A collision of automobiles at the North Main street and Tenth street intersection, about 8:30 this morning, resulted in considerable damage to both cars, and a more or less seriously injured knee for H.
O. Roberts, district manager for the Regina Corporation, with offices in The Register building, J. M. Herring, 844 North Birch street, the other participant in the accident, was not injured.

Roberts, driving an Essex coach, was going north on Main and Herring, in a Dodge touring car, was proceeding east on Tenth. According to witnesses, the cars seemed to approach the intersection on about equal terms; "but both were going too fast," said several who saw the collision.

Herring said there was further complication through an approach of another car and he was forced to turn to the left in an effort to go around in front of Roberts' car.
Falling to clear the northbound car, the right front wheel of Herring's car hit Roberts' car and sent it somersaulting into the air. It fell on its side with Roberts' imprisoned. Bystanders rushed to his assistance, but found him only stunned and dazed and with an injured knee, presently he was able to climb out.

Later, Roberts was in his office nursing his lame knee, but the extent of his injury had not yet been determined.

SAYS NATIONAL ORANGE SHOW TO BE BEST

California's greatest midwinter event, the fourteenth National Orange show, to be held in San Bernardino February 15 to 25, will be offered this year as the greatest citrus exposition in the history of the interior city, according to word received in Santa Ana today.

For many months orange show officials, headed by J. Dale Gentry, president and R. H. Mack, general manager, have been busy making plans for the forthcoming show.
"The result is," Gentry declared,
"that there will be more feature displays than ever before; there will be a greater automobile show and a greater industrial section, more new apartments, more music, in fact it will easily surpass all previous shows."

"Due to a demand for pace for feature exhibits from many communities that previously have not exhibited at the show, it became necessary to enlarge the great fruit tent. There will be seventeen feature displays."

"One of the finest automobile shows in the Southland next to the Los Angeles show is also assured.
A new department that will be of interest to the fruit growers is the department of citrus research and extension. Here will be shown latest methods of frost prevention, pest control, pruning methods will be demonstrated, nursery stock will be exhibited and there will be noted citriculture experts on hand who will give lectures on every phase of the citrus industry."

Co-operating are the departments of agriculture at Washington and Berkeley, citrus experiment station, county horticultural commissioners and citrus experts, it was declared.

Announcement also was made that the famous Santa Monica band of forty pieces, under Tommasino, will head the amusement features. Many other splendid entertainment features have been provided.

SERVICES IN UNION MEET
TONIGHT*Devotional Rites Will Be Held Five Nights; Week's Schedule Is Announced*REV. FRY WILL PREACH*Local Need For Inventory Of Religious Stock Is Told By Pastor

National Prayer Week, opening today throughout the nation, will be widely observed in Santa Ana and Orange county.

With the Rev. J. A. B. Fry of Long Beach scheduled to deliver addresses in several local churches, Santa Ana ministers announced that all is in readiness for devotional services which, it is hoped, will eclipse anything of the kind ever attempted here.

The week's schedule is as follows:
Tonight, services at Spurgeon
Memorial church.
Tuesday night, Congregational church.

Wednesday night, First Methodist church.
Thursday night, First Presbyterian church.

Friday night, First Baptist church.
Services will begin at 7:30 p. m.

"At all these services," said the Rev. W. E. Roberts, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, "the Rev. Mr. Fry, a pleasing, forceful speaker, will bring us a message of hope and good cheer."

Vital Time For Prayer.
"What," it has been asked, "is the meaning of the week of prayer?
Is there a vital need for national prayer?"

"There never was a time when there was greater need for prayer.
This need is local, national, and international. At the beginning of the new year, business men take inventory of their stocks. They are anxious to see where they stand."

"We of the churches must also take an inventory. Not only at the beginning of the year, but throughout the year, we must pray—and pray unceasingly."

"At this time, the great body of Christendom ought to get together in a definite program of prayer.
The churches should have a unity of purpose, in this, as in all great uplift movements, and we should approach our given tasks in the right frame of mind."

Take Problems to God.
"I feel we are coming to a fuller realization of the beauty and efficacy of prayer."

"There is a growing conviction that we must take our problems to God if we are to accomplish anything really worth while. Human wisdom, while well enough in its way, does not fill the need of the hour. Divine wisdom, the great and potent power which rules the universe, is the aid we must seek."

The Rev. Mr. Fry's subjects were announced by Rev. Moffett Rhodes as follows:
Tonight, God's Sufficiency.
Tuesday, The Mission of the Church.

Wednesday, Sleeping Disciples and a Suffering God.
Thursday, The Measure of Our Strength.
Friday, The Goal.

HIGHEST ELK OFFICIAL IN ATTACK ON U. S. ENEMIES

Bitterly arraiging the alien and naturalized enemies of the American government, calling upon the $60,000 members and officers of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks to unite in upholding the constitution, and warmly congratulating the three Orange county lodges upon the high character of the respective officers and the personnel of the organizations, James G. McFarland, highest officer in Elksdom, today had completed a whirlwind tour of San Diego, Imperial Valley and points in the immediate vicinity of Santa Ana. Tonight and tomorrow he will visit Glendale, San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara lodges.

As a direct result of this visit the grand exalted ruler, who was accompanied by other distinguished Elks, has a somewhat tender right hand, but cherishes memories which, to quote his own words, he "will never forget as long as he lives."

Strenuous Trip
From the moment he arrived at Oceanside, where he was met by officers of the Santa Ana, Anaheim and Orange lodges, McFarland was kept busy acknowledging introductions to Elks from all sections of Orange county. This continued until midnight in the Mother Colony, when Anaheim lodgemen and their guests gave the exalted ruler a mighty cheer as he left by motor for Los Angeles to resume his California itinerary.

Addressing several hundred Elks in the beautiful lodge room of the Anaheim lodge, McFarland said: "Eight hundred and sixty thousand splendid, upstanding, thousand-minded American men, comprising the great body of Elksdom, have taken solemn oath to uphold the constitution of this, our glorious country."

"That flag you see draped upon yonder altar must never be sullied by any man claiming membership in this great and patriotic organization."

Urges Laws Obeyed
"The laws written upon our statute books are our laws. No amendment to that constitution, nor any part of that sacred and binding document must be violated by our members. Our lodge rooms dedicated to the highest ideals in the reach of human beings, should be, and are, the meeting places of some of the finest and most patriotic men in the world."

"Elksdom stands today, as it shall ever stand, for those things in country, state and national life that redound to the good of the greatest number of our people. We have never tolerated, nor shall we ever tolerate, enemies to constituted authority. God gave us this splendid country, as a legacy, but with that gift came the command to nurture the soil in which are planted all good ideas, from which must spring all noble and enduring ideals."

Bickering Declared
"Are we going to permit enemies, whether alien or naturalized, to overthrow the government that our fathers fought to establish? This is no time for bickering and the vain repetition of high-sounding terms. In Elksdom there is no place for partisan quarrel, sectarian wrangle, nor political tempest. Here we unite in a common bond. This bond includes brotherly love, charity, justice, mercy and the constant working together for those things in life which are noble and pure and above the vainglorious striving of unworthy men.

"No good Elks will knowingly violate the provisions of the constitution, whether it be the eighteenth amendment or any other amendment. We must be on the alert every hour of the day to resist the utmost traitors to our country, who would tear down that which our people, at so dear a cost, have labored to build up. As Elks, and as Americans, we can do no less."

Harding Editorial Scored
McFarland, who paid a glowing tribute to the late President Harding, scathingly denounced "organized enemies who, at the very hour that our beloved President was being laid to rest, circulated a scurrilous editorial in which the American people were denounced for pausing in their labors long enough to pay final tribute to a noble benefactor who gave his life in the interests of a better understanding among the American peoples."

"I cannot find words sufficiently bitter to castigate such scoundrelous," McFarland shouted, after reading the offending editorial to several hundred Elks who followed every word of his address with the closest attention."

Other Dignitaries
Other high dignitaries who occupied seats on the rostrum with McFarland were:

F. C. Robinson, grand secretary; H. B. Kirtland, president of the California Elks association; Harry M. Ticknor, grand esteemed leading knight; H. S. Williamson, district deputy grand exalted ruler; Dr. Ralph Hagan, past president California Elks association, and a number of exalted rulers from all sections of Southern California.

Robinson delivered a humorous address. Dr. Kirtland stressed the necessity for lodge fidelity and individual responsibility, and Harry Ticknor congratulated the Orange county lodges upon the great charitable work done here.

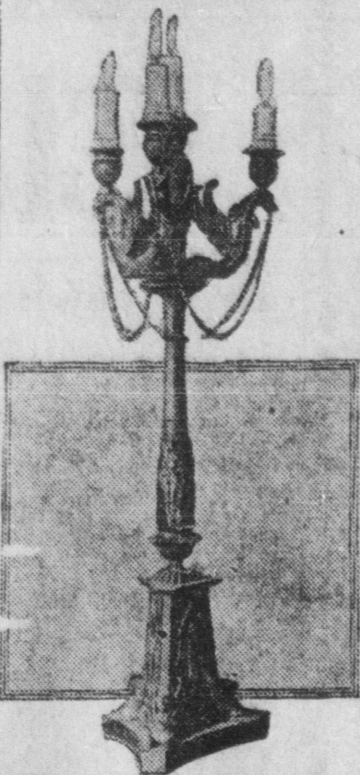

Lauds Women's Rooms
Entertainment features included solos and piano selections by Roy N. Mendoza, interspersed with community singing by the assembled Elks. D. S. Hopkins gave a humorous sketch based on "paraphrases" from "The Blingville Bugle."

Fifty-nine officers joined Grand Exalted Ruler McFarland at dinner. Before going to Anaheim, Mr. and Mrs. McFarland, visiting the Santa Ana club rooms, declared the women's room in the basement one of the most beautiful and tastefully decorated units they have inspected on their 3000-mile trip.

As a climax to the evening's program, McFarland, spotting three visiting Elks in the big audience, rushed down to the altar and gave them a warm greeting.

"Home town boys!" he shouted. "From Watertown, S. D., every mother's son of them!"

Brass Candlesticks of Joseph Napoleon Church Prize Here

TWO of the most interesting relics of the Napoleon family are, strange to say, in the possession of a little known church in Philadelphia, Pa. It is the Church of St. Peter, and the treasures are two brass candlesticks, once the property of Joseph Bonaparte.

When the great Napoleon was in his heyday and was handing out kingdoms like Christmas cards to his friends, he made brother Joseph King of Naples and King of Spain. In 1808 Joseph thought he would be safer in Bordentown, N. J., Spain being politically inclement at that time.

The candlesticks came from Joseph's house into the possession of the Sims family and later were given to the church. They are a tribute to the enduring nature of the metal, its mellow color, and the facility with which it lends itself to perfection of detail and workmanship.

One attractive feature, planned by Morrow, is at the entrance to the new building, Fifth and Bush streets. Here two pay-stations, situated in nooks on each side of the main entrance, will be at the disposal of the public, day and night.

The booths, placed outside the main lobby, will be well lighted and available at all hours," said Morrow, "thus offering patrons a long distance or local telephone service at any and all times."

Odds and ends and boxes galore—but finally, and at no far distant date—SERVICE.

BRONSON SPEAKS TO BIBLE CLASS ON AMERICANISM

Dr. J. Rush Bronson, who had been previously announced as "Imperial Lecturer for the Klu Klux Klan," delivered an address before the Men's Bible Class at the Temple Theater in this city yesterday morning. The Bible Class tellers reported 219 men present.

Dr. Bronson is an able, forceful speaker, and his address was a strong plea for true and militant Americanism and Christianity, with emphasis on "White Anglo-Saxon" Christianity. Over and over again he declared this to be a "White Anglo-Saxon Christian nation," and in his argument he traced the development of American national life from its inception in the Mayflower contract down through history. He said that every one of the 110 men and women who signed the Mayflower contract was a White Anglo-Saxon Protestant.

When he asked how many in the audience (229 by actual count) had ever read the Mayflower contract, he announced first that only four persons held up their hands; then he said, "Well call it a dozen."

Fifty-five of the fifty-six men who signed the Declaration of Independence, he said, were White Anglo-Saxon Protestant Christians, and the American congress which, a year later, adopted the American flag was a White Anglo-Saxon congress.

In emphasizing his theme—that Americanism and Christianity are weak and ineffectual—the speaker asked why the American flag wasn't on the stage. He said, in effect, that the American's average treatment of the flag was outrageous; that occasional demonstrations in its honor were at least only half sincere and temporary. (At the close of the meeting President Martin of the Bible Class stated that the class has a beautiful flag which is usually on display, but which recently had been lost or stolen. He promised to have a flag on the stage at the next meeting.)

Dr. Bronson opened his address by saying that this country is spiritually and patriotically sick, and that unchastity is undermining the people body and soul. He gave some startling figures from government reports showing the prevalence of syphilis and of unlawful and immoral cohabitation.

By analogy at least the speaker emphasized the thought that the drifting away from God, the trend away from spirituality and toward materialism is breaking down love and loyalty to this country.

He reviewed various forms of lawlessness, such as bootlegging, drug vending, sexual immorality, etc., which, he said, are rampant in this country and in which many acquiesce, even though all may not personally indulge. "You know these things," he said, "you people right here before me, now, know of such unlawfulness, and you don't do a thing about it."

"What do you care for law enforcement?" he asked. And he answered, "not a rap!" "How many of you," he continued, "would sacrifice your jobs, your fortunes, your careers, your social standing, your lives if need be for law enforcement? There must be some agency or organization," the speaker said, "to bring Protestant Christian faith to the defense of law and order and the flag of our country."

Dr. Bronson closed his address by a sly description of this country as a home—"your home and mine—a home which each of us has inherited in all its beauty and beneficence. We have gone out upon the highway and met four strangers from the four corners of the earth, whom we have invited into our home and to whom we have extended our hospitality. And in the middle of the night we find one in the cellar undermining the foundation of our home, another breaking out the windows, another tearing off the roof. But we are too humane and too hospitable to interfere with their operations, whereas the I. W. W. laughs in ghoulish glee."

'Y' FUND CAMPAIGN PERSONNEL IS TOLD

Virtually the same organization that handled the first fund campaign for the Y. M. C. A. building will direct the community effort to be made in Santa Ana to secure money for the completion of the building, it was announced today by S. H. Finley, chairman of the Y. M. C. A. building committee. These team workers will meet tonight at Ketter's cafe for a discussion of plans.

The tentative date set for the starting of the community effort is January 22. The goal has been set at $75,000. According to Finley, the date for dedicating the building would be set immediately after the close of the campaign. Favor has been expressed of the plan of the building committee to wait for complete financing of the structure before it is opened for use.

Finley added that while the general personnel of the team workers on the new campaign would be unchanged, there would be several new workers to take the place of those who have moved away from this city.

NEW JAPAN LEADER AGAINST SUFFRAGE

(By United Press Leased Wire)
TOKIO, Japan, Jan. 7.—Japan's foreign policies will continue unchanged under the new ministry headed by Viscount Kiyoura, which is to take office today, according to the best informed sources. Under the new government, it was considered almost certain, universal manhood suffrage, which has long been a dominant domestic issue, will be doomed to defeat.

Resumption of negotiations with Russia for recognition and a trade agreement with the Soviets is the subject of much uncertainty. Some believe such negotiations will be resumed while others take an optimistic view. NEW MEXICO EDITOR WINS LIBEL BATTLE

(By United Press Leased Wire)
SANTA FE, N. M., Jan. 7.—After fourteen hours' deliberation, a jury early yesterday acquitted Carl C. Magee of criminal libel in his attack on Judge Clarence J. Roberts, former justice of the state supreme court.

Judge Holloman, before whom the case was tried, instructed the jury at 2:30 Saturday afternoon.

Hundreds of friends sought out the fighting Albuquerque editor with congratulations when his acquittal was announced.

Magee was on trial on a charge made in the New Mexico State Tribune that Judge Roberts had "thrown out from 600 to 800 Democratic ballots" in order to assure his own seat on the state bench.

A Mercenary Lay

By Berton Braley
Philosophers explain to us,
And moralists maintain to us,
That money is an evil and a curse;

Yet, when you come to think of it
You like to hear the clink of it
Or feel it bulging fatly in your purse.

For life is much more fair without,
Despite what preachers say,
If one just has the wherewithal
To pay.

True, poverty's no crime at all,
But I won't say that I'm at all Persuaded it's a virtue to be poor.

Pounds, dollars or napoleons—
The fairly-earned simoleons
Are not exactly wicked, I am sure.

To have some cash to spare with all Makes things a lot more gay;
It's good to have the wherewithal
To pay.

Man's Power

Just what a man can get under and lift with his back is a mooted question. I have seen a man get under a platform upon which 22 men were stand and rear up and stand with it for over a minute.

When I was 19 years old I picked up with my arms and carried for a few paces a casting weighing 640 pounds. Later I carried a sugar barrel full of chains weighing around 900 pounds and have carried hundreds of barrels of oak-bark extract ranging from 600 to 800 pounds. I used to be a trifle proud of these feats until I got to perusing the "World Almanac" and noted real lifting and carrying feats which made my best look like child's play. If I remember rightly the heaviest lift made with the hands (unassisted with a rope around the neck) is around a ton.—By Edgar Young in Adventure Magazine for December.

"WHY WORRY" PLEASURES BIG AUDIENCES AT WEST END

When Harold to the South was sent by doctors, he'd been told he suffered every ill a man can have and not be laid out cold. In far-away Paradiso, where he took his ills and pills, Jim Blake, a rough-neck renegade, was itching for some thrills.

His outlaw gang did storm the town and take it by surprise and when our hero came along they knew they'd copped a prize. Into the dungeon he was thrown—a giant for a cellmate, who did his best and freed the Boy when he cured him of a toothache.

In all our hero's, coddled life he'd never known such thrills.
He'd surely die—his head was hot,
his feet were cold, burr what chills.
He looked about him for his nurse—his valet, too, was missing, and found the girl in the villain's arms —and he was doing the kissing.

The moral of this tale, 'tis plain, is always turn about and look upon the other side of ills and cares, despair and doubt. So laugh in the face of your troubles, put on your hat and hurry along with the mob that's seeking a throb from Harold Lloyd in "Why Worry?"

Only after ten innings and the hardest kind of a fight did the Laguna Beach baseball club yesterday afternoon retain its perfect record in its pursuit after the 1923-24 Orange County Harbor league pennant. The San Juan Capistrano nine, suffering from two early defeats, was supposed to be meat for the Cavedwellers but the game developed into a hectic struggle featuring by continual protesting over decisions.

Capistrano came up from behind in the eighth inning and tied the score but Tony Derkum's single with two men on in the tenth gave the league leaders their fourth straight win. Gripp, Derkum, Brown, Marshall and Enders all collected more than one blow.

Beck Lanfranco, on the mound for the Tustin Knights of Pythias, permitted the Santa Ana Knights of Columbus to send around three runs in the first inning. After that the veteran right hander settled down and pitched shutout ball. He allowed only seven scattered swats.

Kelly, for the Caseys, heaved well until the eighth when with his team in the lead, 3 to 2, he blew up and allowed five runs to cross the pan. Turner's triple followed by doubles by Clemens and B. Lanfranco did most of the damage. The Tustin outfit also added a brace of runs in the ninth.

Turner, B. Lanfranco, Clemens, Foster, Prather, D. Lanfranco and Squires hit safely for the winners while Kelly, Marston, Oelke, Daley and C. Maag contributed swats for the Knights of Columbus.

Hoover's great pitching was also good too much for Newport, the Santa Ana Commercial company fingers setting the tailenders down without a run while his own teammates were annexing six scores.

There is some talk that Ward may be shifted to short and a crack second sacker purchased to take Ward's place. The name of Eddie Collins has been prominently mentioned.

It strikes me that such a move would be a colossal mistake. Last year Aaron Ward was one of the best second sackers in either major league. There was little to choose between him and Collins and that is paying him a real compliment. Ward for several years has been a good, but not a great, second baseman. Possessing remarkable ability he lacked a certain finesse that kept him from reaching the ranks of stardom. There was a slowness in completing a double play that often caused him to lose the second out. This loss of a fraction of a second is usually the result of faulty pivoting. That was perhaps the outstanding fault of Ward as a second sacker.

Last season Ward reached the ranks of stardom. Seemingly overnight he erased his greatest fault. In pulling double plays no second baseman in the league made them with greater celerity.

To shift Ward to shortstop at a time when he had won a place as one of the game's greatest second basemen certainly would not seem logical. In the first place, I doubt if Ward would consent to the change. I know that he is partial to second, also that he doesn't like to play shortstop. At various times he has filled in at that position. In all probability the entire matter is based on rumor, and the chances are that Manager Huggins has never seriously considered making such a shift in his infield. A great shortstop is very essential to a team's success.

Suspend Racing at Culver City for Two Weeks

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 7.—Racing will be resumed at Culver City track on January 26, according to a statement today by Dick Ferris, promoter of the betless racing venture.

Rumors that there would be racing next Saturday and Sunday were flatly denied by Ferris, who said that the only reason they are waiting until the 26th is for the purpose of completing the lawn, grandstand and other building details.

S. T. Maloney, who was formerly with the department of justice, is to be the manager and he will be assisted by Ferris. Earle Moore and Birch O'Neal company will have no active part in the arrangement, according to Ferris.

A crowd of 8,000 attended the races yesterday, which were managed by the horsemen.

RICKARD HOPES TO MATCH HARRY WILLS

Promoter Offers Big Negro Godfrey Contest With Champ For Winner

By HENRY L. FARRELL, (United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Renewed efforts are to be made by Tex Rickard this week to match Harry Wills and George Godfrey for a bout in a general heavyweight elimination tournament.

Rickard would like to match the winner with Firpo and let Dempsey have the survivor of that match. Little may come of the attempt, but Rickard said today he was still hopeful, despite his failure during several months of negotiations.

"Firpo, Wills and Gibbons are now claiming priority rights to a match with Dempsey," Rickard said. "To satisfy them it would be necessary to have three heavyweight championship fights next summer."

"Three Bouts Too Many. In fact, it is enough work to put over one big spectacle in a season. "Firpo, as far as I have been able to learn, is the only one of three contenders who is willing to take the chance of proving his right to a match with Dempsey by fighting a real contender," Rickard said.

"Wills claims that his right is established and that he does not need to prove that he is the outstanding challenger. He is willing, however, to fight Gibbons or Jack Remius."

"I am not certain what Gibbons wants to do and I have not made any serious efforts to get him a heavyweight match as I think he belongs to the light heavyweight class."

Firpo Willing to Fight. "Firpo is willing to fight Wills, Gibbons, or any of the contenders and I would like to get him a match because he is a good fighter and a great card."

"It is true that he was knocked out in two rounds by Dempsey but he is the only heavyweight who has knocked Dempsey off his feet since he won the title."

Rickard intimated that Wills could get $100,000 out of a match with Firpo and he didn't seem sure that he could offer that much money to the next opponent for Dempsey. The champion demands so much money that there isn't much left for the opponent.

Paddy Mullins, manager of Wills, insists that all efforts to match his charge with any of the contenders are designed to make Wills look bad and that he does not have to prove his right for the title.

FULLERTON DEFEATS LOCAL LEGION NINE

Santa Ana War Vets Throw Game Away By Errors In Last Part of Fray

While Oscar Reichow, business manager of the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast league, watched things from the sidelines, the baseball team of Santa Ana post, No. 131, American Legion, yesterday afternoon overcame a four-run lead and forged into the front only to throw away on errors the contest to the Fullerton American Legion.

The final score was 8 to 7. A fair-sized crowd was at the Fifth and Sullivan street park.

Reichow dropped in on "the boys" all unawares and quietly made his exit about the sixth inning. The Angel official watched the work of Tyrrell and Cutting of Santa Ana and Callahan and Bush of Fullerton with special interest.

The winning Fullerton score, coming in the ninth frame, was the result of an overthrow to first, a sacrifice hit and a clean single to center by Jones.

Jimmy Hicks, local Legion hurler, was bumped hard and often but he would have won his game at that had not his teammates messed up things at critical moments.

"Toughy" Tyrrell drove in the first Santa Ana run with a single in the first and his two-bagger in the fifth brought in two more tallies. "Jug Walters' long triple was responsible for two runs in the seventh and the "Jug" scored himself on an infield hit.

Red Billman Bests Meyers, Salt Lake Pitcher, In Fast Game at Irvine

Elmer (Uncle Jim) Meyers, Salt Lake coast league hurler, and "Red" Billman, erstwhile leaguer himself, yesterday afternoon provided Irvine baseball fans with one of the prettiest pitching duels ever seen on the cross-road lot, Billman, finally winning.

Meyers allowed only five scattered bingles but two of these were timely and the coast leaguer, occupying the slab for the White King Soap company of Los Angeles, went down to defeat, 2 to 1. Billman was nicked for seven safeties, having the visitors blanked until the ninth when Pete Thompson, recently signed by Cleveland, doubled and completed the round on Falk's single.

YACHTSMEN ARE BUSY MAKING BOATS FIT

Paint Brushes Are Used to Advantage By Crews of Newport Vessels

BALBOA, Jan. 7.—Yachtsmen and boat builders here are hard at work these warm, sunny days getting their craft in shape or completing new ones.

Captain E. D. Burge of Santa Ana is having his entire fleet overhauled and painted. The Louise and Maude F. palatial yachts, are resplendent in clean, new paint, while the Vivienne, Burge's handsome mahogany runabout, is being entirely refinished and the engine overhauled.

Actor's Boat Rebuilt
Harry Carey's handsome black schooner was given a trial trip Sunday since being rebuilt and repainted, and certainly showed a clean pair of heels to other craft when running under power. Carey purchased the boat in Alaska, and had it entirely rebuilt by Perkins of Newport with the result that he has one of the handsomest, staunchest, best equipped boats in the harbor.

Ben Cope, local boat building genius, has a large number of craft of various designs to get out. They include a fine 28-foot cruiser for R. D. Edwards of Los Angeles, 12 row boats for Ray Summers, who is building them for the coming summer; three skiffs for individual use, and a sail boat for Henry Mackay of Los Angeles. He is also overhauling a number of boats and engines.

Move Fordham Plant
Frank D. Fordham, well known marine architect of this city, will move his plant, now located on Bay Front, to Balboa Island, and engage in the construction of small boats up to 40 feet in length.

Fordham's work along this line has won him so much commendation and business he intends to specialize in it. He is now completing a trim 20-footer modeled after the famous Seabright skiff design, which will allow the owner to run the surf in ease and safety. It has a beam of five feet and a draught of 15 inches with an 8 horse power engine installed.

RADIO SET AT TUSTIN H. S. PROPOSED

TUSTIN, Jan. 7.—Purchase of a radio set for the use in the auditorium of the local high school during assembly periods and at the entertainments given in the evenings will be discussed at the regular meeting of the board of trustees of the local high school tonight.

The radio will make it possible for the school pupils and teachers to enjoy a varied program of music and speaking at the regular assembly at noon. The cost of the machine will soon save itself by the substitution of speakers who are usually brought here.

The radio will also supply music during the intermissions and at intervals during the performances given at the high school.

It was recently decided to purchase another curtain for the stage here with the result that a fine new curtain with trimmings has been ordered. The new curtain will form a back drop. It is to be of a grayish color.

Several other matters of the regular business of the board will be taken up at the meeting. Reports from the high school this morning indicated that nothing would be done about the epidemic now going about. Two of the teachers who have been ill were again at their work this morning, and only twelve students were reported absent from classes this morning.

SUSPECT IN MURDER ELUDES POLICE NET

(By United Press Leased Wire)
PASADENA, Jan. 7.—Search for Harry J. Dunlap, alleged "badger bandit," believed to be the man who shot and killed William Jacobson, attempting to protect his fiancée, Miss Ethel Todd, was extended to the Mexican border today.

The police are also endeavoring to locate a local physician who knows Dunlap, and who may be able to throw a little light on his whereabouts.

"Getting Dunlap is only a matter of time," said Deputy Sheriff Bright.

Motorcycle police were busy yesterday posting circulars bearing Dunlap's picture and offering a reward for his capture.

MISSIONARIES ARE MONUMENT TO PADRES

Crumbling With Age They Represent Genius of Early Builders

(NOTE: This is the fifth and concluding article of a series published in the Register during the reconstruction of the Mission San Juan Capistrano.)

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Jan. 7.—While years have passed since the destruction of the great stone church of San Juan Capistrano, the ruins still stand as a monument to the genius of those primitive workmen.

Begun in February, 1797, the building was completed in 1806, and was the most magnificent of all the churches in California. Made entirely of stone and mortar, the walls were four to six feet thick and the roof was a series of seven domes. The stones were carried from the hills six miles away by the neophytes, men, women and children, and the large boulders were hauled on crude bull carts. The limestone for the mortar was secured at a quarry at El Toro, and some of the stone used in the structure was obtained from the rocky point at the ocean, now called San Juan point.

"Master Builder" Directed
A so-called "master builder" is said to have worked on the church, but during the construction he died or was killed, and the task was completed by the neophytes under the direction of the padres.

Local tradition has it that the bell tower of the church was so high that it could be seen from a point ten miles away to the north, and that the sound of the bells was carried even farther.

An entry on one of the record books of the mission reads as follows: The church of this mission (was) built by the neophytes at the expense of their application and labor. It is all of lime and stone, and with vaults of the same material, and with a transept. It was begun on the 2nd day of February in the year 1797, and finished in the year 1806. It was blessed on the evening of the evening of the same year and by the Rev. Fray Estevan Tapia.

Quake Wrecks Church.
On the morning of December 8, 1812, during mass, the building was wrecked by an earthquake. The only entry in the mission records relating to the disaster states that the church fell during the first mass on that date and that during the following two days the bodies of thirty-nine Indians removed from the ruins were buried in the cemetery.

An attempt was made in the early sixties to rebuild the old walls with adobe bricks, and the domes that still remained were blasted away with gunpowder to give place to a wooden roof. But the rainy season set in just at the critical time when the temporary roof was hardly completed, and this, with much of the walls, fell in one night. The rebuilding was never again undertaken.

The remaining dome over the sanctuary still shows the traces of remarkable pilasters, cornices, arches and keystones. There, too, may be seen some of the original frescoes, painted in remarkable tints of blue. One design resembles a scorpion, and another a curled leaf.

In restoring the mission, this church will not be touched.

"This," says Father O'Sullivan, "is the work of the old padres. To rebuild it would require razing it to the ground and working along modern lines, completely obliterating the remains of the structure. The old church stands as a monument to the untiring efforts of long ago, and it will remain just as it is."

JUSTIFY WOMAN IN KILLING HUSBAND

(By United Press Leased Wire)
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 7.—Roy Staggs, cafe owner, was dead at Maywood, near here, today, killed by his wife, Mrs. Eve Staggs, after he had abused and beaten her, according to testimony of those who witnessed the tragedy. The woman was not arrested, officers holding the slaying justifiable.

Staggs, according to his wife, had been intoxicated since Saturday. Yesterday he attacked her in the cafe, and when she hid in an automobile across the street, he dragged her out and beat her head against a wall.

She ran upstairs, barricaded herself in her bedroom and when Staggs attempted to enter, fired three shots. One pierced his heart.

Tame Seal Leaves Cozy Beach home; New One, Sought

BALBOA, January 7.—Anybody wanting a nice, good dispositioned young seal for a pet is urged to get in touch at once with L. L. Cramer, a visitor here from Richmond, Indiana, who demonstrated his ability Thursday to snare one with ease and skill.

Cramer went walking down the beach by Abalone Point. He saw a baby seal sunning itself on the sand. Walking up to it, he made a grab at the husky youngster, got it by the nape of the neck as he would a kitten, and took it up in his arms.

Kid Seal was a bit disposed at first to resent such familiarity, but under the soothing petting of Cramer, he put on his best behavior and soon was enjoying the friendly pats of his captor's hand. After playing with him a bit, Cramer put the baby down on the beach. The seal made no effort to get away, until his supposed parent came up in the ocean and called him. Then he slid into the water, and swam away.

Cramer thinks the seal weighed 30 pounds. He says he is going to make a pet of the next one he catches.

ORANGE, Jan. 7.—Pledging their support to President Coolidge in the 1924 Presidential campaign, a group of prominent local citizens has issued a call for a booster meeting at the City Hall tonight when an Orange Coolidge-for-President Club will be formed.

The immediate purpose of organizing the club is to assist in selecting delegates to a State-wide conference of Coolidge supporters at San Francisco in February at which time a ticket of Coolidge Presidential electors is to be selected.

The local club, expected to boost a large membership, is prepared to assist in the county and later in the State a booster campaign being planned to further Coolidge's candidacy.

The call, issued Saturday, set the hour of the booster meeting for 7:30 o'clock at the City Hall, and read as follows:

Call for Rally.
"Believing that President Coolidge, despite his short term of office, has given to the country an administration worthy of the best American traditions, and that the Republican party's best interests lie in a continuation of his leadership, we have joined in an invitation to Republicans of this district to unite in a Coolidge-for-President Club, which will have as its purpose the advancement of the candidacy of our President."

The call was signed by F. L. Ainsworth, former mayor; Wilbur Smith, ranchman, member of the board of directors of the California Fruit Exchange; George C. Woods, merchant, bank director; J. D. Thomas, president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county; L. F. Coburn, former City Attorney, and A. S. Ralph, clubman and prominent league officer.

UNION MEN TO BOOST PLAN FOR MILL

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 7.—The plan of selling stock and putting in a cotton mill here will be the main topic to be discussed at the meeting of the central labor committee here tomorrow evening at 7:30 p. m. The meeting will be held at the Labor hall on Walnut street.

The location and procuring a site for the plant is at the present time being worked out and if plans of the promoters here are successful in this matter it is almost certain that the mill will be here soon.

A PUZZLE A DAY

ASTRONOMERS
In an earlier puzzle, it was explained how the letters forming the word ASTRONOMERS could be arranged to make the phrase NO MORE STARS, every letter being used, and no additional letters necessary. Another clever anagram, or transformation, is possible. Rearrange the letters in "astronomers" and they can be made to form two words which will tell what astronomers are.

Yesterday's answer:

The punctuation marks "!" in the upper drawing may be held so as to spell the word "is." Turn the paper upside down, and hold it before a mirror (or look through from the other side). Then they will appear as in the lower drawing.

WHAT? ASSOCIATE WITH CRIMINALS!

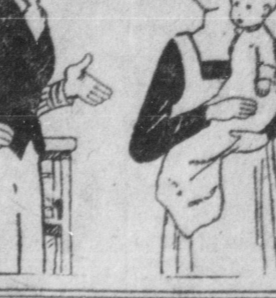

EVA, THERE IS NOTHING FINER THAN THE LEGAL PROFESSION FOR A BRIGHT BOY.

WELL, I DON'T SUPPOSE HE WOULD HAVE TO BE A CRIMINAL LAWYER.

WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE IF THEY COULDN'T PROVE IT ON HIM?

HOLIDAY REVEAL MAY SEPARATE SOCIETY PAIR

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 7.—At least one young San Francisco society couple came to the parting of the ways on account of the cup that cheers, passed about too freely during the New Year's eve celebration.

They are Mr. and Mrs. Grattan Phillips, the latter formerly Miss Coralie Duenas, daughter of the wealthy Central American, Francisco Duenas.

Mrs. Phillips' attorney, F. M. McAuliffe, will file the divorce complaint of the striking young matron against Phillips, in which she charges that her husband almost choked her to death in their apartments at the Cliff Hotel upon their return from a bibulous New Year's eve party, passed with friends at the Stanford Court apartments.

Announcement of the coming divorce action was made by Duenas and Mrs. Phillips, who reside with Mrs. Phillips and her 2-year-old son, at the Cliff.

Screams Brought Clerk. According to Mrs. Phillips' parents, Phillips attacked his wife, threatening to kill her, and almost succeeded in choking her into unconsciousness, before her screams brought the hotel clerk, who forcibly ejected Phillips from the hotel.

"My son-in-law was drunk," Duenas said, "and for that reason my daughter left the celebration and brought him home. He turned upon her then, and began choking her. This is just the end of a series of unfortunate affairs. Phillips has been drinking heavily for some months, but my daughter cannot put up with it any longer after such an occurrence. Her divorce action will be based upon habitual intemperance, cruelty and failure to provide, as Phillips and my daughter have lived with us here at the hotel and he has not contributed one cent to her support for months."

Mrs. Phillips is now confined to her room suffering from nervous shock and Phillips is living at his parental home, 2260 Vallejo street.

Wedding Was Brilliant. The wedding of the couple was a brilliant social function three years ago, the ceremony taking place in Trinity Church with hundreds of guests and a bridal party that included many of the debutantes of that winter. The bride was one of the beauties of the younger set, and having made her debut here following the establishment of the family home in San Francisco.

Phillips is the son of Grattan Phillips, senior member of the publishing firm of Phillips, Van Orden company.

Police In Initial Arrests of Year. Police records today showed the arrest of seven men, the first during 1924. Four were arrested at the corner of Fruit and Logan streets where officers said they interrupted a drunken brawl. The other three were arrested as vagrants.

Orenlano Saldor. 26; A. Ortiz, 36; John Ramirez, 23, and Heljino Garcia, 23, were arrested late Saturday afternoon when police said they were informed the Mexicans were fighting with knives. No weapons were found. Police Sergeant Lutz and Elliott, patrolmen Bernard, Krauch, and Swain, Constable J. S. Elliott, and Deputy Sheriff McKeague answered the call.

According to reports from Newport Beach, Kelly was driving from Balboa to Newport Beach. The accident occurred near the station of the Standard Oil company.

Kelly was brought to the Community hospital by Dr. Conrad Richter, of Balboa.

Kelly is a son-in-law of John McMillan, of Newport Beach.

Semi-conscious and with his face badly cut, Don Kelly, 35, of Newport Beach, was at the Community hospital here today suffering from serious injuries received at 10 o'clock last night, when the steering gear of his automobile broke and his car struck a curb on Central avenue, Newport Beach, and turned over.

Los Angeles, Jan. 7.—L. H. Ruppenthal, 35, in jail today charged with assault with a deadly weapon, while the police are seeking the man he is alleged to have shot.

Adams fled bleeding, Ruppenthal said.

HIGH SCHOOL CAST LIKES 'SEVENTEEN'

When the high school senior class presents Booth Tarkington's "Seventeen" at the high school February 8, the members of the cast will be ready to give a first-class production.

This was the conclusion of a statement made today by Ernest Crozier Phillips, who is coaching the play. Phillips said each member of the cast was learning his part rapidly, with each rehearsal whipping into shape what promises to be one of the best high school plays ever given here.

The story of the play is one of modern youth and as such cast members are said to be enjoying "seeing themselves as others see them."

(By United Press Leased Wire) WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 7.—Escaping with five other girls from the State Industrial Home at Muncy, Lycoming county, Agnes Swanson, 19, died of exposure while trying to make her way over the mountains to her home here, police were informed today.

The girls escaped Thursday and separated at once, each making for their homes. Four of them were recaptured but the Swanson girl and Goldie Broadbent struck over the mountains and evaded the searches.

A train crew found the girl lying by the roadside and took her to a home at Sylvan Dell, an isolated mountain settlement, where she died yesterday. The other girl has not been found.

EVENING SALUTATION

Will power isn't a piston blow
Nor the throb of an engine's wheel,
It's a subtle force from a living source
Which the trails of life reveal.
It's what do you do 'neath the tug and strain
And it's whether you're false or true,
It's how do you fight when you know you're right,
And it's all that there is to you.

DASHEEN, THE NEW VEGETABLE

Now comes word through the United States Department of Agriculture that the vegetable, dasheen, has gained a real foothold in Florida. This declaration will be of considerable interest to County Treasurer J. C. Joplin and those of his friends who, a few years ago, enjoyed dasheen cooked in various ways. The county treasurer grew a quantity of dasheen in his back yard, demonstrating the fact that the county's climate is favorable to the production of the vegetable.

The federal authorities in a bulletin set forth that Jacksonville has taken kindly to the new vegetable, offering it for sale all over the city and using it in large quantities. Perhaps a dozen car-loads have been shipped to northern markets the past year. But that is not enough to satisfy the Florida growers—or the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The department vouches for the character of the dasheen, pronouncing it an excellent substitute for the potato in many respects, and superior in some ways. It is drier than the potato, and has 50 per cent more food value per pound. It can be prepared in almost any way the potato can, and is fine for stuffing chickens, turkeys, etc. There is a considerable demand for it among the foreign population, especially people from the Orient, where it has been used for many years. The tops of the plant may be used as "greens" or for salads.

It is hard to introduce any new article for food. It took the potato itself centuries to make its way into the European diet, and it is only within the last ten years that Germany has made much use of the tomato. It may take a decade or two to acquaint the American public with this new starch vegetable. Such matters move faster, however, than they used to. The only trouble is, the supposedly conservative farmer is always ahead of his supposedly up-to-date city market.

LABOR BANKERS

The new bank opened in New York by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers acquired 500 accounts and took in more than $1,000,000 the first day. The first account was opened with $8 by the wife of an engineer. The size of the deposits ran up to $100,000, made by a big candy company. The bank was filled with flowers, sent by other banks, with their good wishes.

The flowers are as significant as the deposits. The labor men are finding, somewhat to their surprise, that the "capitalist" banks are friendly, or at least do not fight them any more than they fight each other in the ordinary way of business. The "capitalists" know that labor banks are a good thing, because they promote thrift on the part of the largest class of citizens, through whose hands passes the most money.

Labor gets the lion's share of the gross income of every industry, and a comparatively small margin of saving by workmen soon runs up into enormous sums, swelling bank resources in general and providing financial sinews for industry.

The success of the various banks opened by labor organizations in the last two or three years, especially the railroad brotherhoods, has been remarkable. They are patronized by thousands of people having no direct connection with labor, because they are soundly managed. The labor men are shrewd enough to employ experienced bankers to run the institutions for them.

Thus almost insensibly labor itself is passing into the capitalist class. And if labor ever does control industry in America, it will be because it has saved and banked its money, bought a controlling interest in the industries and hired good business men to operate them.

FREE RADIO DISCUSSION

Radio fans generally do not like the idea of "wired wireless" operated monopolized by electric light and power companies, put forward tentatively by Secretary Hoover. They say their chief interest in radio is the fascination of experimental discovery—making their own sets, tinkering with ready-made sets and fishing in the aid for the programs of distant broadcasting stations. Radio would become very prosaic, they think, if it were merely a local affair, with home programs received over simplified, standardized, rented sets. They want adventure and variety.

They will probably continue getting these things. Radio manufacturers and transmitting stations sympathize with them, and point out that "wired radio" has its mechanical as well as its sentimental limitations. The head of a representative station expresses his belief that "educational and entertainment programs will always be broadcast without charge." That seems likely, in view of the great possibilities offered for commercial advertising and propaganda of sorts, in connection with such gratuitous broadcasting. If the mere publicity ever proves to be inadequate compensation for the growing expense of professional broadcasting, doubtless some way can be found, as in England, for getting the owners of receiving sets to contribute a fair amount.

The important thing, in any event, as the majority of radio enthusiasts see it, is to keep this modern miracle of instruction and entertainment as universally available as the air itself, for anyone, anywhere, to take when he wants it.

BETTER VISION MOVEMENT

One branch of health promotion through public education is concerned with the need and possibility of better vision. The Eye Sight Conservation Council of America, with headquarters in New York city, is searching for information and facts on this subject and disseminating the knowledge it acquires for the benefit of the general public.

It has found that among industrial and commercial workers, among school children and among adults in general, perfect vision is rare. Imperfect vision is found in nearly two-thirds of the persons examined. Many defects are slight and might be corrected by the use of proper glasses or early treatment. Other defects are caused by strain which could be relieved by correct lighting and posture and by resting the eyes and varying their occupation occasionally.

The council suggests that any apparent defects in very young children—obviously inability to see well, cross-eyes, and so on—should be attended to promptly. It suggests also that every child's eyes should be examined just before he enters school, and that all adults between the ages of 20 and 40 should be examined.

Whether corrective treatment involves glasses or not, it should be undertaken promptly. Eye strain and defective vision are the causes of too many other misfortunes, such as inefficiency, retarded progress in school, accidents and chronic physical suffering.

A Misspent Fifteen Years

Fresno Republican

Much has been made in the news recently of a broker in New York, who at the age of 41 years has retired, with a fortune of two millions. At the age of 15, it appears, he started in, in Wall street, as a runner, resolving to quit when he had two millions. Having them, he has quit, incidentally, to run a small country newspaper.

If John Borg, the former broker, finds that his heart is really in the newspaper game, he has done well, of course. And perhaps he will not be burdened for so many years with two millions, if he has any gay ideas about newspaper profits.

But isn't it too bad to think of a man giving his life, between 15 and 41 years, to a business, giving it so earnestly that he was able to make millions, and then have to quit it at 41 years?

Should not a man have more respect for his life, between 15 and 41, than to devote it to something that he would want to retire from, at 41?

We used to be told that John D. Rockefeller had worked so hard, up till he was 70 years of age, that he had almost no stomach left, and had had to give the remaining years of his life to nursing his stomach. At that, he seems to have managed well in the years since.

What kind of stomach, for business, has John Borg, retiring at 41? Isn't it a diseased stomach? Hasn't it indigestion, a permanent nausea?

Or isn't he likely to find, before he is much older, that the business habits he has formed, between 15 and 41, are incurable—that having been broking for 26 years, he must continue to broke, or lose his grip on life?

Immigration Service

San Francisco Chronicle

The enforcement of our immigration laws is entrusted to the Department of Labor, and we know of no reason to suppose that it neglects that duty. But Secretary James J. Davis, in his annual report, says that there are many thousands of illegal entries every year. All who are caught are deported, but that is very expensive. During the fiscal year ending June 30 last 3661 were deported and more would have been sent out had more funds been available. Including the head tax which it collects the bureau is more than self-supporting, turning into the Treasury last year, net $1,019,236. It would seem that the bureau might be allowed to expend what it takes in.

The alien seamen's law, ending the practice of returning deserting seamen and allowing them sixty days in our ports to find another ship, was intended to compel foreign ships to pay American wages, but it seems to be working backwards. During the last year there were 23,194 desertions of seamen reported, of whom great numbers were Chinese. But 102 were reported as sent home. The aliens come in in all sorts of ways, the Mexican border being the route most used. A great many came from Cuba and some from Canada, although the Canadian government is said to work with us, in spite of its obvious interest in getting rid of undesirable.

One remedy proposed is registration of all aliens, with deportation of all who cannot prove lawful entry. Another which suggests itself is to make unlawful entry, a felony, with at least two years in jail, with deportation to follow.

Presidents "of the People"

Pasadena Star-News

The President of the United States may be a Republican, or a Democrat or he may come from some new and dominant party. But whatever the name of the party to which he adheres, the President is a democrat. This is true of Mr. Coolidge. It has been true of a long line of his predecessors.

Presidents vary in temperament, of course. Grover Cleveland and Theodore Roosevelt, for example, were widely different in their methods of meeting and greeting the people. Likewise, Abraham Lincoln and Woodrow Wilson. Yet at heart, all Presidents have been truly democratic and the greater number of them have manifested their democratic tastes and manners in meeting the common people.

Holding the exalted position of President of this Republic has the effect of keeping men humble, and not making them haughty, austere and autocratic. The President of the United States is approachable to the humblest citizen of the land.

That Body of Yours

IS NOSE BLEED SERIOUS?

You have been doing some heavy work and your nose starts to bleed. Perhaps you have been blowing your nose very hard and the bleeding starts.

Sometimes you may have a heavy feeling in the head, almost an ache, your nose starts to bleed, and the heaviness departs.

And again this bleeding from the nose may be something peculiar to your family.

Now in any of the above cases there is really nothing to worry about. The cause is evident and it is not serious.

But nose bleed may be one of the first symptoms of some serious illness, and where you cannot locate the cause, as one of the above mentioned, it would be well to be careful.

It is often a symptom of heart or kidney trouble.

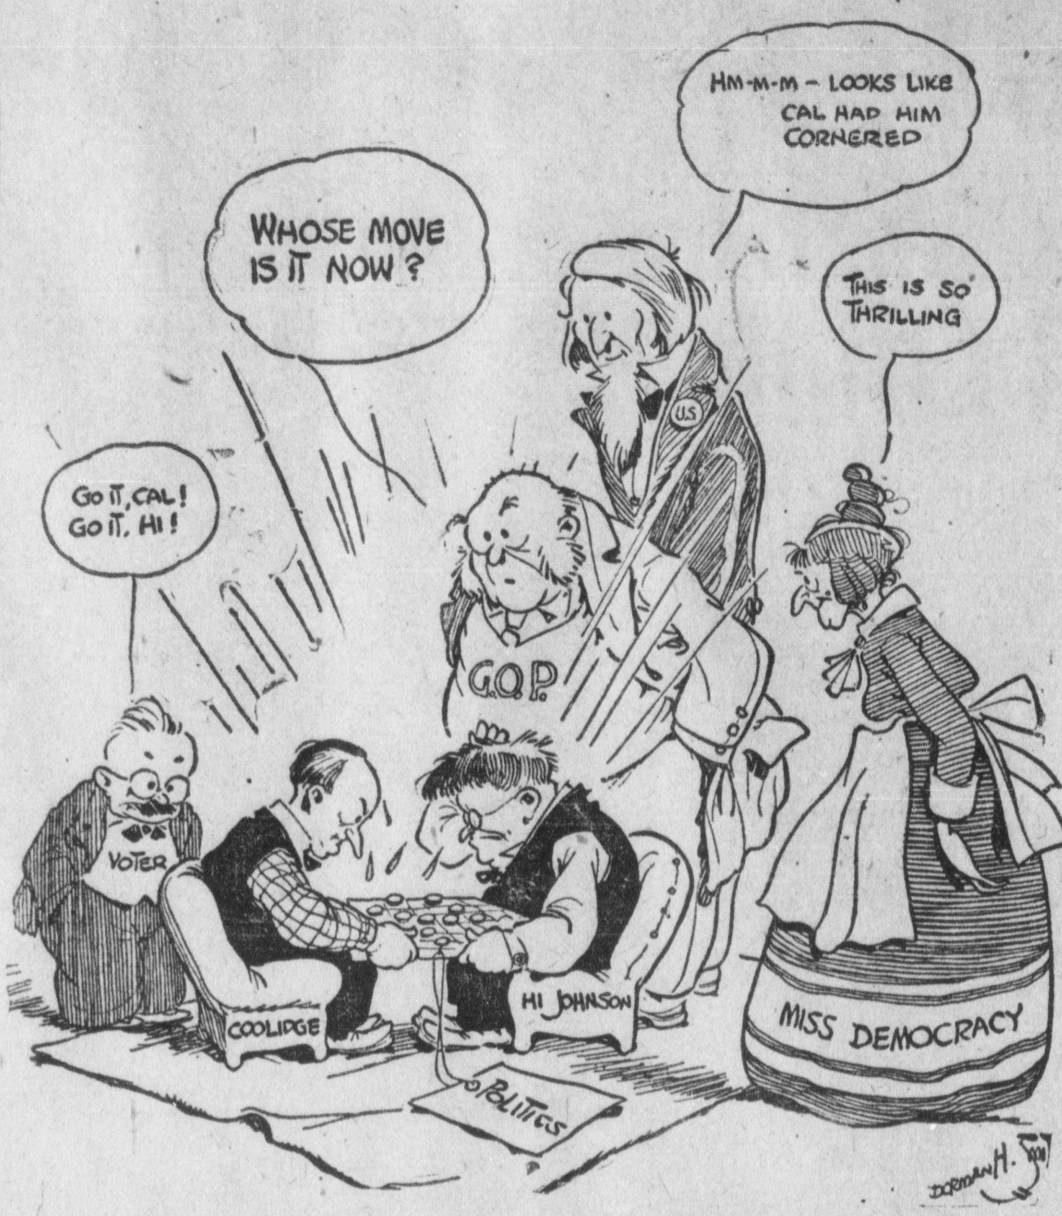

The first thing to do is to lie down and be quiet for awhile. Don't blow your nose if you can possibly avoid it. You can then await developments. However if the nose bleed occurs often and you are a thin individual, you would be wise to consult your doctor. Don't wait until you have become weak from loss of blood. If there is a feeling of being tired all the time, your pulse weak, and a feeling of dizziness at times, the loss of blood is making serious inroads on your health.

Frequently there is some condition in the nose itself that requires attention. Thus many people with bleeding from the back part of the nose allow the blood to go down into the stomach. This is then vomited and they have an idea that they have some serious stomach trouble, even cancer.

The usual method of stopping the bleeding, cold applications to bridge is often effective. The application of adrenalin in the proportion usually sold by the druggist, 1 to 1000, is likewise a good method. Where the bleeding is obstinate, pushing a rubber finger stall with the open end outward up into the nostril and plugging the stall up with absorbent cotton will press against the small bleeding point and stop the bleeding.

The removal of the finger stall with the cotton inside it does not start up the bleeding again as does the raw cotton against the bleeding point. (Metropolitan Newspaper Service)

This Is Getting Exciting

All In 83 Years

San Francisco Journal

Can one be both thinker and a doer?
No, says the practical man. And most idealists agree with him.

The men who do, take thoughts already formed, and act on them. They take ideals, that fit the occasion.

And yet, every now and then, appears a man who is a great exception, who can both think and act, who can see, and create, who can be, and imitate.

Such a one was a poet of France, the author of "Les Miserables" and "The Laughing Man" and "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," and many histories and volumes of verse. For 83 years he led an active life, as a statesman and dramatist, as well as a poet and scholar, dying in 1885. Here is something that Victor Hugo wrote, as done into English by Andrew Lang:

The Grave said to the Rose
"What of the dews of dawn, Love's flower, what end is theirs?"
"And what of spirits flown,
The souls whereon doth close
The tomb's mouth unawares?"
The Rose said to the Grave.

The Rose said: "In the shade
From the dawn's tears is made
A perfume faint and strange, Amber and honey sweet."
"And all the spirits feet
Do suffer a sky-change,
More strangely than the dew,
To God's own angels new."
The Grave said to the Rose.

Worth While Verse

INSTEAD

When I am dead what matter, dear,
For I shall never know
Though o'er my cold and lifeless hands
Your burning tears shall flow,
I'll cancel with my living voice
The debt you'll owe the dead.
Give me the love you'd show me then,
But give it now instead.

And bring no wreaths to deck my grave
For I shall never care
Though all the flowers I loved the most
Should grow and wither there,
I'll sell my chance of all the flowers
You'll lavish when I'm dead
For one small bunch of violets now,
So give me that instead.

What saints we are when we are gone!
But what's the use to me
Of praises written on my tomb
For other eyes to see?
One little, simple word of praise
By lips we worship said,
Is worth a hundred epigrams—
Dear, say it now instead.

And faults that now are hard to bear
Oblivion shall win;
Our sins are soon forgotten us
When we no more can sin.
But any bitter thought of me—
Keep it for when I'm dead;
I shall not know—I shall not care,
Forgive me now instead.

Your Income Tax

By the Bureau of Internal Revenue

INCOME TAX IN NUTSHELL

WHO? Single persons who had net income of $1,000 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more, and married couples who had net income of $2,000 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more must file returns.

WHEN? The filing period is from January 1 to March 15, 1924.

WHERE? Collector of internal revenue for the district in which the person lives or has his principal place of business.

HOW? Instructions on Form 1040A and Form 1040; also the law and regulations.

WHAT? Four per cent normal tax on the first $4,000 of net income in excess of the personal exemption and credits for dependents. Eight per cent normal tax on balance of net income. Surtax from 1 per cent to 50 per cent on net incomes over $6,000 for the year 1923.

ARTICLE NO. 5.

A single person, if the head of a family, is allowed the same exemption granted married persons, $2,000 or $2,500 according to the amount of net income, plus $400 for a dependent. The $400 credit of a family is a person who actually supports and maintains in one household one or more persons who are closely related to him by blood, marriage, or adoption and whose right to exercise family control and provide for these dependents is based upon some moral or legal obligation.

More support of relatives does not entitle a taxpayer to a status as the head of a family. The dependent must be a member of the taxpayer's household, and the taxpayer must, in fact, exercise family control over such dependents.

In addition to a personal exemption a taxpayer is granted a credit of $400 for each person depending upon him or her for chief support if such person is under 18 years of age or incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective. The term "mentally or physically defective" includes not only cripples and those mentally defective but persons in ill health and the aged.

Such a dependent need not be a relative of the taxpayer, nor need he be a member of the taxpayer's household. A son living in New York who is the chief support of an aged mother living, without necessity for the separation in Baltimore is entitled to a credit of $400. Were the mother a member of the son's New York household the son, as the head of a family, would be entitled to an exemption of $2,000 or $2,500 according to the amount of net income, plus $400 for a dependent. The $400 credit does not apply to the wife or husband of a taxpayer, though one may be totally dependent upon the other.

Justice To Indians

Stockton Independent

The average citizen probably thinks of the American Indian either as the treacherous Redskin of pioneer days or as a remote and mystic Hawatha communing with such bits of nature as are available to him. That too few white citizens of this country think of the Indian as a present, living race, facing a good many modern problems, is attested in the neglect these native Americans have suffered in recent years.

Agitation in behalf of the Indian has begun, however, and should continue until it is certain that he is receiving just and generous treatment from his white brothers. If it is true that his health has been neglected, that his educational facilities are inadequate, that he is being unjustly deprived of his lands and of his proper means of subsistence, then all these things should be righted as swiftly as possible.

A committee appointed last April by Secretary of the Interior Work has now completed its investigation and report. It urges that the American Indians throughout the United States be given opportunity to develop like the rest of our people. A member of the committee says:

"The problem before us is to make as rapidly as possible the average American Indian citizen educationally as well equipped and as self-reliant and self-sufficient as the average citizen of any other racial descent."

"The taking" from the Indian by conquest and fraud land and finally liberty is the great wrong we must right. It would be a policy of selfish enlightenment to salvage this quarter of a million of human wreckage and thus enrich our citizenship."

Taking politics out of Indian affairs, enabling the Indians to maintain their unique customs while fitting them to make their own way successfully in our present civilization, recognizing the valuable contribution they have made and can make to our national life, and treating them as able and intelligent beings are some of the remedies to be applied to the present situation.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Olive Roberts Barton

As Daddy Gander said afterwards, he could scarcely believe his own eyes. For there in the kitchen cupboard stood every pumpkin pie that Peter Peter had made, and every mince and apple and lemon pie that Misset John had made, and the extra big one that the Bakerman had made and marked with J, and all the cookies and cakes and ice cream and everything. Right in the house that Jack built!

The Sandman stood looking, and so did the Twins and Daddy Gander, not one of them able to believe his eyes. For as truly as I tell you, not half an hour before the cupboard had been as empty as a refrigerator on Sunday night.

"I must be using my senses or my eye-sight!" gasped Daddy Gander.

"Well," said the Sandman, "I'll be losing my job, if I don't get these people awake and home to bed where I can put them to sleep properly. Whoever would have that way, and all that sand flying thought of my sand bag opening up over here? And he looked at Misset John, Jack's mother, sound asleep against the kitchen sink. How happy she would have been to know that all her pies were safe!

"Don't you know any magic way of waking people up?" asked Daddy Gander.

"No, I don't," declared the Sandman helplessly.

"If only Mother Goose doesn't come home before we get everything straightened out!" sighed Daddy.

It was Nancy who had an idea. Her little brain had been thinking and thinking. "Say, Mister Sandman, if we get the sleepy sand out of everybody's eyes, wouldn't that waken them?"

"You're just right! It would, young lady, but how? That's the question."

"If Daddy Gander takes his magic dustpan—you know how you do it, Daddy Gander. If dust or sand comes anywhere near your dustpan, it flies right to it and sticks. Couldn't you wave it around and get all the sleepy sand out of everybody's eyes?"

"Well, I declare!" cried Daddy Gander. "Of course I can! Funny I didn't think of it before. Here! Where did I leave that dustpan of mine? Oh, there it is."

And without another word he waved it around and said a charm and every woke with a jump.

The first thing that Misset John saw was the pies. "Good lands! Where did they come from?" she cried.

At that minute Nick came up the cellar stairs two at a time. "That isn't a cupboard you put the pies into, mother," he said. "It was the dumb-waiter that goes up and down to the cellar. They were so heavy they made it go down, and you only saw the empty shelves. And when I fell asleep in the cellar I must have bumped it and made it come up again."

So the party ended just right. And when they were all home again, the Sandman put them to sleep in the proper style. Then away he went in his cloud boat to the sky where he lived.
